No Tariff Tinkering in Next Congress==Barnes

HOPES TARIFF WILL BE TAKEN OUT OF POLITICS

CHAIRMAN BOARD DIRECTORS ADDRESSES U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

TARIFF COMMISSION SHOULD BE ABLE TO MAKE GRADUAL ADJUSTMENTS

By THOMAS L. STOKES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 5.—Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, declared today "It would be most unfortunate to reopen the tariff in the next session of congress."

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce convention, Barnes made this statement, he said, to clarify a reference he made to tariff adjustment in his speech at Atlantic City last week. This had been interpreted in some quarters as a suggestion for revision of the Hawley-Smoot tariff at the next session of congress and was regarded by some as significant because of his close friendship with President Hoover.

"American business hopes the administration of our tariff laws by the tariff commission will go a long way toward taking the tariff out of politics," he said. "Business, through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, for years has urged that the tariff be treated as an economic and not a political issue."

"Gradual adjustments, either up or down, as may be necessary, through the agency of the tariff commission, do not have the unsettling effects that accompany a general overhauling by congress. It is the duty of the tariff commission, after investigation, to recommend adjustments. It would be most unfortunate to reopen the tariff in the next session of congress."

"Business as represented in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, wants all tariff adjustments made with due regard for our foreign trade, as I said in Atlantic City. It believes this can be done and ample protection shall be given the American manufacturers and American wage earners in living standards."

"I want to point out that the flexible clauses of our tariff law provide a clearly defined channel for all parties and interests to bring forth their recommendations, and when hearings are ordered, to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard in the hearings. A number of investigations and hearings have already taken place, and others are pending, with adequate opportunity for the point of view of interested business men of other countries to be taken under consideration."

Washington, May 5.—A scathing indictment of American financial leaders by one of their own number for their policy leading up to the depression, and suggestions for revision of inter-allied war debts by two outstanding European figures, turned the International Chamber of Commerce convention today into the field of controversy.

Melvin A. Traylor, Chicago banker and international financial expert, denounced financial leaders for failure to warn the public when they knew the stock market crash was coming, and for permitting the boom period to go unchecked when they knew where it was headed.

"We have not failed because of ignorance of economic theories, but because of our utter disregard and defiance of all economic laws," he declared, accusing financial leaders of a lack of courage to face the facts.

"Ambition, stupidity and greed have dictated policies, and trouble has been the result."

Traylor also included government officials in his indictment, saying that both they and financial leaders knew as early as 1927 that unchecked expansion and speculation could lead only to disaster, yet the record of American financial leadership and of responsible government officials was regrettably one of too much silence."

The war debt question was brought up by two leading foreign delegates, both of whom suggested that revision all around might lead the way back to economic recovery. The speakers were Alberto Pirelli, Italian industrialist, and Sir Alan G. Anderson, director of the Bank of England.

"Would it perhaps be better to cancel international debts of political origin?" Anderson asked.

"To cancel these international debts would not of itself cure the world's complaint, though the settlement of war debts seriously aggravates the world's trouble in these hard times."

Pirelli was less frank, but his meaning was equally clear.

"I do not know," he said "what importance should be attached to the argument that inter-allied debts represent only a small percentage of the value of American production, or of the trade balance, or of the American balance to payments and that their effect on the American economic situation is therefore inconsiderable. It is

BANKER AND WIFE ARE FOUND SLAIN NEAR THEIR HOME

BODIES OF MR. AND MRS. W. V. WAGNER, WATER VALLEY, MISS., FOUND MUTILATED

HACKED TO PIECES WITH AN AXE, BLOODY TRAIL LEADS FROM THE HOUSE

Water Valley, Miss., May 5.—(U.P.)—W. V. Wagner, president of the Bank of Water Valley, and his wife were found murdered near their home here today, their bodies hacked to pieces with an axe.

Wagner's body was found buried in a shallow grave about 75 yards from the house and his wife's body in another shallow grave some 200 yards away.

Officers discovered the bodies after following a bloody trail from the house. Signs of a terrific struggle were seen in the house and officers believe the couple was attacked by a fiend who after killing them with an axe dragged their bodies away and hastily buried them.

The double slaying was discovered by a negro cook when he went to the house.

The cook noticed blood around the yard of the house and on the doorsteps. Failing to arouse anyone in the house, he became alarmed and notified Sheriff Charles Doyle.

Doyle went to the house, forcing open the door. In the house he found a blood covered axe. Further investigation disclosed a blood soaked coat hanging in the barn.

Wagner's body had been buried in an orchard bordering the yard. Brush and sticks had been thrown over the grave.

In the garage officers noticed an automobile belonging to Mrs. Wagner was spattered with blood. A thin stream of blood led up the road in the opposite direction from where Wagner's body was found to another shallow grave where the woman's body was discovered.

It was thought the murderer put Mrs. Wagner's body into the automobile and carried it up the highway to the spot where it was buried.

Water Valley is 70 miles south of Memphis. The Wagner family is one of the wealthiest and most prominent in northern Mississippi.

Bloodhounds and a posse of citizens acting under Sheriff Doyle took up the hunt for the slayer.

The deputies were riding along an outlying road when shots rang out from behind a cross tie barricade where 30 men were reported entrenched.

Deputy M. Daniels was slain as he sought to lift a machine gun from an automobile and several others were wounded in the first exchange of shots.

Deputy George Dawn succeeded in setting up the machine gun beside Daniels' body, and turned it on the barricade. He reported by telephone he believed he had killed three men.

Sheriff John H. Blair, notified here of the gun battle, sent 25 deputies armed with machine guns, rifles and tear gas to the scene, with instructions "to shoot to kill."

The battle took place near Evans, Ky., ten miles east of Harlan.

Word of the battle was brought to Harlan by Deputy Sheriff Estes Cox who staggered into Blair's office, his clothes spattered with blood from two wounds.

"For God's sake, send some men out there at once," he gasped out. He reported that Daniels was instantly killed and another deputy named Ottlee, was dying of wounds. Others also lay on the roadside, wounded, he said.

The battle was the second here in a week. Last Tuesday coal mine strikers fought with deputies near the Black Mountain mine. Hundreds of shots were fired, but no one was reported wounded.

The strike disorders have resulted from efforts to unionize "open shop" mines in the section.

Lieut. Commander Kidston completed a spectacular flight from England to South Africa last month in six days.

TUNNEY SAYS SOVIET IS A GOING CONCERN

FORMER WORLD HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION AND WIFE ARE VISITING LENINGRAD

TUNNEY MARVELS AT STATE AND SOCIETY BASED ON EFFACEMENT OF INDIVIDUALISM

Moscow, May 5.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, who explained that he is a sportsman and not an economist, told the United Press prior to his departure for Leningrad that the Soviet Union is "a going concern, right or wrong."

The former world heavyweight champion and his wife were making a visit to Leningrad today, after which they will proceed to Helsinki, Stockholm, Berlin and New York, which they plan to reach before June 1.

Characterizing communism as "the hope of inferior," Tunney said he had "heard so many conflicting reports and seen so many conflicting conditions during my stay in Russia that, so far, it is impossible for me to form a definite opinion of the country."

Tunney, who impressed persons here as an individualist, said he had marveled at the strides made by a society and state based on effacement of individualism.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion, the treatment of religious monuments and other symbols of pre-revolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to art.

17-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS HELD, CHARGED SHE KILLED MOTHER

CLAIMED LUCIA GOULET, EAST ROCKLAND, CANADA, USED SCISSORS AND KNIFE

BLOODSTAINED WEAPONS FOUND BY AUTHORITIES IN BOILER OF WATER

Ottawa, Ont., May 5.—(U.P.)—A 17-year-old girl was held today on charges of slaying her mother with a pair of scissors and a knife in their East Rockland home, 23 miles from here, after her sister informed authorities she suspected the girl.

Lucia Goulet was arrested at the home where her mother's body was found with the throat slashed and 16 wounds in the head, face and breast. A bloodstained pair of scissors and a knife were found by police in a boiler of water. They also found a dress with crimson stains which they compelled the girl to don. Police said the dress fitted Lucia perfectly.

Lucia fainting when she was confronted with the clothing, but was revived by a physician who advised against her being taken to the court house. She was removed to a hotel room and a magistrate was called. He ordered court to convene there and the girl was arraigned on a charge of murder. The magistrate ordered her case held over for one week and Lucia was committed to jail.

Lucia called for a priest soon after her arrest and the Rev. Father Oslas Carriere, curate of the parish, visited her in the hotel.

She succeeded in saving one child, Edith Peterson, 8, but there was not time to reach two others, who stood as if hypnotized, waiting, horrified, in the path of the train.

Other children were under the trestle and along the tracks. A few minutes before they had been happy, out with their teacher on an expedition that was the forerunner of a picnic they had planned in honor of Miss Scott's birthday and of the approaching summer vacation.

Besides Miss Scott, those killed were Beulah Peterson, 7, and June Mason, 8. Lester Peterson, 11, brother of Beulah and Edith, was one of the witnesses. He was under the trestle, calling frantically for the trapped ones to jump, when the tragedy occurred.

Miss Scott and the children had planned a water raft for last evening. They left in the afternoon to gather willow sticks along the railroad tracks to use in roasting weiners.

The three children were on the trestle when the train appeared. Miss Scott rushed to rescue them. She threw Edith Peterson to safety as the train roared toward them, its whistle shrieking constantly as the engineer set every brake. Edith suffered minor injuries. The teacher could not reach the other two in time and died with them.

VISITING LENINGRAD

TUNNEY MARVELS AT STATE AND SOCIETY BASED ON EFFACE-
MENT OF INDIVIDUALISM

Moscow, May 5.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, who explained that he is a sportsman and not an economist, told the United Press prior to his departure for Leningrad that the Soviet Union is "a going concern, right or wrong."

The former world heavyweight champion and his wife were making a visit to Leningrad today, after which they will proceed to Helsingfors, Stockholm, Berlin and New York, which they plan to reach before June 1.

Characterizing communism as "the hope of inferior," Tunney said he had "heard so many conflicting reports and seen so many conflicting conditions during my stay in Russia that, so far, it is impossible for me to form a definite opinion of the country."

Tunney, who impressed persons here as an individualist, said he had marvelled at the strides made by a society and state based on effacement of individualism.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion, the treatment of religious monuments and other symbols of pre-revolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to art.

DO-X Continues Ocean Flight

Germany's biggest seaplane, the Dornier DO-X, after a three months' stop off at Las Palmas, Canary Islands, again skimmed across the water of Gando Bay and took to the air, heading for the south in an effort to complete the trans-Atlantic flight which began at Altenrhein, Switzerland, November 5, 1930. The map shows the course from the original take-off to Las Palmas and the projected course across the Atlantic.

PRINCE OF SIAM IS CHECKED UP ON A SPEEDING CHARGE

Denver, May 5.—(U.P.)—A prince of Siam, who came here to observe American military methods, has been observing other things American, so today he must answer speeding charges before Police Magistrate A. T. Oranhood.

Prince Swasthi Praditsidh, brother of the Queen of Siam, drove 33 miles an hour through a school zone, Officers E. N. Darwin and R. J. Williams said and gave the royal speeder a yellow ticket.

"There were other automobiles going faster than I. Why don't you go after them?" Prince Praditsidh said with typical American grace upon receiving the slip. He promised, however, to be on time at police court.

TEACHER AND TWO PUPILS GROUND TO DEATH BY TRAIN

TRAPPED ON A TRESTLE NEAR GENESEO, ILL., AS PASSEN-GER TRAIN CAME

MISS HELEN SCOTT SAVES CHILD, DIES TRYING TO SAVE
TWO OTHERS

GeneSEO, Ill., May 5.—(U.P.)—School children upon whose memories was stamped forever the picture of their teacher and two playmates being trapped on a trestle and ground to death by a passenger train were called today to tell a coroner's jury what they had seen.

The teacher, Miss Helen Scott, was celebrating her 26th birthday yesterday when she failed in an heroic attempt to throw three children from the trestle as the shrieking train bore down upon them.

She succeeded in saving one child, Edith Peterson, 8, but there was not time to reach two others, who stood as if hypnotized, waiting, horrified, in the path of the train.

Other children were under the trestle and along the tracks. A few minutes before they had been happy, out with their teacher on an expedition that was the forerunner of a picnic they had planned in honor of Miss Scott's birthday and of the approaching summer vacation.

Besides Miss Scott, those killed were Beulah Peterson, 7, and June Mason, 8. Lester Peterson, 11, brother of Beulah and Edith, was one of the witnesses. He was under the trestle, calling frantically for the trapped ones to jump, when the tragedy occurred.

Miss Scott and the children had planned a weiner roast for last evening. They left in the afternoon to gather willow sticks along the railroad tracks to use in roasting weiners.

The three children were on the trestle when the train appeared. Miss Scott rushed to rescue them. She threw Edith Peterson to safety as the train roared toward them, its whistle shrieking constantly as the engineer set every brake. Edith suffered minor injuries. The teacher could not reach the other two in time and died with them.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—(U.P.)—Edward J. Pearlove, state comptroller, today ordered architects and engineers to begin work on plans for the $2,252,300 construction and repair program to be carried out during the next two years at Minnesota's state institutions.

"Most of the work will be done this year in accordance with Governor Olson's program of unemployment relief," Pearlove said. "The engineers and architects probably will have plans and specifications completed so we can call for bids on contracts for the work on June 15."

Departing from the established custom of having designing and engineering work done by one individual and one firm, Pearlove, at Olson's orders, allotted the work to a large number of architects and engineers.

Clarence H. Johnson, St. Paul, formerly was state architect, and all engineering work was done by the Pillsbury Engineering Company, Minneapolis.

The construction and repair program, including the names of architects and engineers for the various projects, follows:

Orr & Co., Minneapolis, engineers; $155,000 for two cottages for inmates, $35,000 for new boiler, $15,000 for addition to engine room, $10,000 for addition to laundry, $11,500 for a deep well pump, $3,300 for power plant replacement and $8,000 for general repairs.

BANDITS ROB WOMAN OF $8,000 SHE HAD DRAWN OUT OF BANK

Chicago, May 5.—(U.P.)—Three bandits today robbed Mrs. Ada Maehler of the $8,000 she took out of a bank and carried around in a money belt "so it would be safe."

Mrs. Maehler, widow of Herman Maehler, title officer of the Chicago Title and Trust Co., settled his estate recently. She had the money on deposit in a bank. Reports of impending failure and a run caused her to withdraw it.

She was at the home of Mrs. Mary J. Rippey, a friend, today when the bandits ripped screening from a door to enter, held guns on her and Mrs. Rippey, took the money belt and fled.

Rear Rabbits for Wool, New Oregon Industry

Olympia, Wash.—Baby Bunting's rabbit skin has now developed into rabbits' wool for aviators and airplane passengers' clothing. An Oregon mill has been turning out something new in yarn, the first of its kind produced in the United States, from the wool sheared from Angora rabbits.

The material is expensive but is eight times warmer than ordinary wool and equal to fur in extreme weather conditions.

Growers receive from $3.50 to $7 per pound for the rabbit wool, according to length of pelage. Sheared rabbits will again grow more wool.

Berets, blankets, shawls, sweaters, hoods, mitts and socks for airplane service are made of the new fuzzy cloth. A rabbit will produce about 12 ounces of wool in a year.

Bathtub Once Unpopular
Adam Thompson of Cincinnati was so proud of the bathtub he had installed in his home in 1832, that he exhibited it to his guests at his Christmas party. Four of the guests were given baths in the new household convenience, and the "party" secured two columns in the city newspapers the next day, in which the bathtub was denounced as a luxury, out of keeping with the democratic spirit of the times.

Naturalization Day Plans Discussed, Reports by Organizations

The joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary opened last evening at the Iron Exchange hall with this was followed by the report on the singing of Star Spangled Banner, the chow mein supper, by Mrs. J. Alton.

Naturalization day plans were discussed, the American Legion being in charge of the program. The Auxiliary president, Evelyn Mraz, together with other organizations made arrangements for the lunch. As the Americanization chairman would be unable to attend, Mrs. Roy Wier was chosen to represent the auxiliary in welcoming the new citizens.

Reports were also given on the Auxiliary card party, held some time ago for the benefit of local Camp Fire girls, and the Camp Fire International Revue for which the Auxiliary band played.

Communications were read from Mrs. Barner, state president and Harriet B. Caswell regarding summer kindergarten and night schools. Miss Evelyn Mraz was elected the delegate to the district convention in St. Cloud in June.

This being music week, Mrs. Moerke gave the history of our national anthem, Star Spangled Banner, and Miss Evelyn Mraz read Henry Ward Beecher's "Tribute to the Flag." A lunch was served to the Legion and Auxiliary.

Rear Rabbits for Wool, New Oregon Industry

Olympia, Wash.—Baby Bunting's rabbit skin has now developed into rabbits' wool for aviators and airplane passengers' clothing. An Oregon mill has been turning out something new in yarn, the first of its kind produced in the United States, from the wool sheared from Angora rabbits.

The material is expensive but is eight times warmer than ordinary wool and equal to fur in extreme weather conditions.

Growers receive from $3.50 to $7 per pound for the rabbit wool, according to length of pelage. Sheared rabbits will again grow more wool.

Berets, blankets, shawls, sweaters, hoods, mitts and socks for airplane service are made of the new fuzzy cloth. A rabbit will produce about 12 ounces of wool in a year.

Bathtub Once Unpopular

Adam Thompson of Cincinnati was so proud of the bathtub he had installed in his home in 1842, that he exhibited it to his guests at his Christmas party. Four of the guests were given baths in the new household convenience, and the "party" secured two columns in the city newspapers the next day, in which the bathtub was denounced as a luxury, out of keeping with the democratic spirit of the times.

First American Exports

Capt. John Smith sent from Jamestown wood made into panels for waistcoating. This is the earliest manufactured product exported.

Miss Mable G. Lee and Harry Voss Married at Deerwood Yesterday

Miss Mable G. Lee, daughter of Mrs. Christine Lee of Deerwood, and Harry Voss, operator at the Paramount Theatre, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of Deerwood.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of spruce and fern, with the wedding march played by Mrs. John Olson. Rev. O. L. Bolstad officiated using the Lutheran ring service.

The bride was attended by Miss Marvel Olson, her cousin, and Mr. Voss by Leo Lee, a brother of the bride. The bride was dressed in a pink georgette gown, and carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies and fern. The bridesmaid wore a flowered net dress, and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and fern.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Olson sang "At Dawning." At six o'clock a wedding dinner was served to about fifty relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Voss left immediately afterward on a ten day wedding trip to Winnipeg and other northern points. On their return they will make their home in Brainerd, on Main St.

DEGREE OF HONOR DIGNITARY HERE

Mrs. Anna Woolley, Grand Vice President, Inspects Lodge Departments

Mrs. Anna Woolley of Minneapolis, grand vice president of the Degree of Honor, arrived in the city Saturday, and is spending a few days here inspecting the juvenile department as well as the adult lodge. She will also attend initiation of candidates of the lodge this evening, and will leave tomorrow for her home.

An entertainment in the form of a birthday party will be held this evening, to celebrate the 36th anniversary of the founding of the local order.

"Quacks" Reap Harvest

From Gullible Public

Burning a rabbit's heart on the fire to bring a mate for a lonely woman; paying half a crown for a quack consultation and a pennyworth of herbs; buying charms to ward off evil; burning incense at fortune-telling tea parties, and reading teacups to discover whether husbands are faithful to their wives! These are among the many amazing performances carried on in the West riding of Yorkshire. Leeds and Bradford, in particular, are infested with these places, where people are induced to undergo "treatment" for all sorts of ailments and for all sorts of reasons. Incompetent people calling themselves "herbalists" or "advisers" make examinations of men and women and then prescribe some herb. Charms of various kinds are sold to neurotic women suffering from a fear complex. At Leeds one woman paid 75 cents for a rat's tail that was supposed to have been possessed of special powers. Many homes have been destroyed by the suspicions aroused in the minds of wives concerning their husbands. The police experience great difficulty in securing prosecutions, because people who have been gulled are ashamed to come forward to give evidence.—London Tit-Bits.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

A FRENCH JACKET ENSEMBLE

There's Paris in every line of this two-piece afternoon ensemble made of Canton crepe with Burgundy flowers printed on a pale aquamarine ground—a very smart color scheme for spring. Both the frock and jacket have the delightful new "unexpected" arrangement of one-sided lines, emphasized in Goupy's best manner by a scarf which may button to the frock or jacket. A circular section is inserted in the front of the skirt, creating graceful folds. The smartest complement to this frock would be the new embroidered crepe slippers, dyed to match the Burgundy flowers.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5569. Sizes 14 to 42, 65 cents.

Scotland Yard Keeps

Murder Grips Packed

London.—A Scotland Yard detective sent hurriedly out of town to investigate a murder case just shouts to a messenger to bring him a "murder bag" and dashes off.

Although little is known of these "murder bags" outside of Scotland Yard, six of them are always kept packed and ready for a call.

Its contents are:

Two rubber aprons.
Two pairs of rubber gloves.
Fingerprint apparatus, including powders and brushes.
One magnifying glass.
One electric torch.
One luminous compass.
One pair of handcuffs.
Footprint apparatus, including zinc collapsible molds.
Two 24-inch steel flexible rules.
A steel case for stationery, including fingerprint forms.
Towels, soap, and strong disinfectants.
The rubber aprons, gloves, and disinfectants are designed to protect the detective from germs while conducting his investigations.

"Pinchhitting" on Mother's Day, Girl Scouts Keep Babies Happy

When big Girl Scout sister, showing how well qualified she was to take over mother's duties on Mother's Day, cooked and served a meal for the baby, the latter licked her lips appreciatively. Every day might be Mother's Day as far as she was concerned.

Caring for the baby is an important item in the list of Girl Scout home-making activities, but naturally it is only one of the multifarious duties the girls must perform if they are to "pinchhit" successfully for mother on May 10th. That is their plan for the day, when they hope to let mother rest and take plenty of recreation. The program will, therefore, include the doing of the usual household chores, such as dish-washing, bed-making, sweeping and dusting. Girl Scouts expect to prepare the breakfast, too, to surprise mother with a home-made present and to cook and serve a special menu for the Sunday dinner. This menu has been selected for them by Ida Bailey Allen, of the radio home-makers' club, and consists of well-balanced simple foods, the preparation of which will be broadcast on May 7th at 10 A. M. over the Columbia network.

Natural Phenomena

Near Dodge City, Kan., copper is taken from the volcanic dust of an old crater. Sea water stands in another crater near Cawker City, Kan., and bubbles when there are storms on the oceans.

Square and Circle Space

A circle contains a greater area than a square that has a perimeter equal to the circumference of the circle because in the circle every part of the circumference is extended to its farthest point from the center, thereby inclosing the greatest area.

An entertainment in the form of a birthday party will be held this evening, to celebrate the 36th anniversary of the founding of the local order.

"Quacks" Reap Harvest From Gullible Public

Burning a rabbit's heart on the fire to bring a mate for a lonely woman; paying half a crown for a quack consultation and a pennyworth of herbs; buying charms to ward off evil; burning incense at fortune-telling tea parties, and reading teacups to discover whether husbands are faithful to their wives! These are among the many amazing performances carried on in the West riding of Yorkshire. Leeds and Bradford, in particular, are infested with these places, where people are induced to undergo "treatment" for all sorts of ailments and for all sorts of reasons. Incompetent people calling themselves "herbalists" or "advisers" make examinations of men and women and then prescribe some herb. Charms of various kinds are sold to neurotic women suffering from a fear complex. At Leeds one woman paid 75 cents for a rat's tail that was supposed to have been possessed of special powers. Many homes have been destroyed by the suspicions aroused in the minds of wives concerning their husbands. The police experience great difficulty in securing prosecutions, because people who have been gullied are ashamed to come forward to give evidence.—London Tit-Bits.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

A FRENCH JACKET ENSEMBLE

There's Paris in every line of this two-piece afternoon ensemble made of Canton crepe with Burgundy flowers printed on a pale aquamarine ground—a very smart color scheme for spring. Both the frock and jacket have the delightful new "unexpected" arrangement of one-sided lines, emphasized in Goupy's best manner by a scarf which may button to the frock or jacket. A circular section is inserted in the front of the skirt, creating graceful folds. The smartest complement to this frock would be the new embroidered crepe slippers, dyed to match the Burgundy flowers.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5569. Sizes 14 to 42, 65 cents.

Scotland Yard Keeps Murder Grips Packed

London.—A Scotland Yard detective sent hurriedly out of town to investigate a murder case just shouts to a messenger to bring him a "murder bag" and dashes off.

Although little is known of these "murder bags" outside of Scotland Yard, six of them are always kept packed and ready for a call.

Its contents are:
Two rubber aprons.
Two pairs of rubber gloves.
Fingerprint apparatus, including powders and brushes.
One magnifying glass.
One electric torch.
One luminous compass.
One pair of handcuffs.
Footprint apparatus, including zinc collapsible molds.
Two 24-inch steel flexible rules.
A steel case for stationery, including fingerprint forms.
Towels, soap, and strong disinfectants.

The rubber aprons, gloves, and disinfectants are designed to protect the detective from germs while conducting his investigations.

"Pinchhitting" on Mother's Day, Girl Scouts Keep Babies Happy

When big Girl Scout sister, showing how well qualified she was to take over mother's duties on Mother's Day, cooked and served a meal for the baby, the latter licked her lips appreciatively. Every day might be Mother's Day as far as she was concerned.

Caring for the baby is an important item in the list of Girl Scout home-making activities, but naturally it is only one of the multifarious duties the girls must perform if they are to "pinchhit" successfully for mother on May 10th. That is their plan for the day, when they hope to let mother rest and take plenty of recreation.

The program will, therefore, include the doing of the usual household chores, such as dish-washing, bed-making, sweeping and dusting. Girl Scouts expect to prepare the breakfast, too, to surprise mother with a home-made present and to cook and serve a special menu for the Sunday dinner. This menu has been selected for them by Ida Bailey Allen, of the radio home-makers' club, and consists of well-balanced simple foods, the preparation of which will be broadcast on May 7th at 10 A. M. over the Columbia network.

The Kidnaping Problem

KIDNAPING is beginning to play a prominent part in the criminal developments of recent years, says the Minneapolis Tribune. The holding for ransom of wealthy or well-to-do men has become a regular business in gangland. How common the occurrence is can be judged by comparing the national furore that arose over the kidnaping of young Cudahy by Pat Crowe and the comparative indifference with which the news of a kidnaping is now received. We are growing so accustomed to kidnaping that it has lost its capacity to shock us. We have apparently resigned ourselves to its as just another detail in the growing business of crime.

Kidnaping presents a peculiar problem to the police and gives a peculiar protection to the kidnaper. The natural tendency of the relatives and friends of the victim is to comply with the kidnappers' ransom demands. They want the victim restored to liberty and they do not care how this restoration is brought about. They have little or no interest in the apprehension of the kidnappers and not infrequently they conspire with the kidnappers to insure their safety.

In almost every instance of kidnaping we find the police complaining of a lack of co-operation on the part of the victim's family. The family refuses to give the police information that might lead to the kidnappers' arrest. Negotiations with the kidnappers are carried on independently of the police and there is what virtually amounts to a conspiracy between the family and the kidnappers to thwart the police.

All this is easily understandable. The family, with a member held a prisoner under the threat of torture or of death, can hardly be expected to give a great amount of consideration to the public interest involved in the affair. The matter is too poignantly personal for any such display of public spirit. The whole thought of the family is to rescue the father, husband or son on any possible terms even to the extent of compounding with the kidnappers.

While this is easy to understand, it is none the less a part of the problem that society must solve in attempting to deal with the kidnaper. Rarely is the kidnaper caught and punished. Usually the victim of a kidnaping has had an experience which removes any notion of reprisal by law from his mind. He is no more disposed to help the police after he is free than were his relatives when he was a captive. All this combines to make kidnaping a fairly safe criminal activity and we suspect a profitable one as well.

The Good Old Days

TIME was, in this busy, widespread country of ours, that there was no thought of beauty, of recreation, of sanitation. In building a house or a town the hardy pioneers considered only grim necessity. A house was nothing but four walls, a puncheon floor and a roof to shelter the family from wind and weather.

A town was nothing but a collection of such shelters with a few larger, barer structures to serve as church, school, town hall or combined store and postoffice.

That time is gone forever. Today beauty of design, beauty of surroundings and beauty of perfect construction take a leading place in the planning of either a home or town. A place to play is now a necessity and the home has its yard and its children's playroom in the attic or playhouse in the garden, while the town must have its park and ballgrounds, golf links or athletic field.

Sanitation is now perhaps the first consideration—that which was never thought of in the older days. Today sunshine and fresh air must be let into the house and clean water and effective sewers must be supplied the town.

Talk about the good old days, but let's live in these days and be thankful that we do.

Conference on Social Work

THE National Conference of Social Work and Associate Groups will be held in Minneapolis from June 14 to 20. The range of discussions covers a wide field.

Fifteen meetings on unemployment are scheduled by the various divisions and social groups. These have all been planned to present different aspects of the problem.

Other topics are conserving wholesome family life for children; what criteria exist in the field of delinquency for the evaluation of success or failure in treatment; future administration of criminal justice in America; state public health programs; the drift to public relief; American doles; is the American neighborhood disappearing; the dangers and advantages of sex instruction for children; agency autonomy and community organization; the future of social work; significant trends in the development of foreign-born groups in the United States; research and social work; the child and propaganda.

These are but a few of the subjects coming up for consideration.

Mother's Day at the University

MOTHER'S DAY at the University of Minnesota will be May 9, according to announcement by President Lotus D. Coffman.

Arrangements are being made by a committee headed by Dean Edward E. Nicholson of student affairs, and Anne Dudley Blitz, dean of women. Invitations were mailed to the mothers early last week. Mothers will attend classes with their children in the morning and during the afternoon will be entertained at teas, dramatic performances and student gatherings in fraternity and sorority houses. A banquet at the Minnesota Union will conclude the day's activities.

Usually 1,100 mothers attend the activities with several hundred remaining for dinner. Brainerd is expected to send a large group of mothers, for the Brainerd colony of students at the University is a large one.

ONE may be able to raise onions and potatoes, cauliflower and egg plant, gladioli and dahlias, but when it comes to fixing up a lawn and making it look decent after last year's drought, it requires real genius.

CROWS, hawks and gophers were fair game for sportsmen of Meeker county early in May during the annual crow hunt. Crows counted two points in a hunter's bag, hawks three and gophers one.

THE moderate admission prices in effect at Brainerd movies brought large crowds to the city Sunday. One noticed it in the large number of cars parked throughout the city.

WADENA WINS FIRST PLACE IN DISTRICT MUSIC CONTEST AT BRAINERD

REPRESENTATIVES FROM TEN SCHOOLS VIE FOR MUSICAL HONORS

Saturday morning marked the beginning of the fifth district High School Music Contest at the Brainerd High School. The ten schools entered in the contest were: Division B, Aitkin, Brainerd, Crosby-Ironton, Little Falls, Staples, Wadena; Division C, Bertha, McGregor, Onamia and Wabikon.

The morning program opened at ten o'clock with the chambered music ensemble composed of wind instruments. The contestants were Aitkin, Wabikon, Bertha, Staples and Wadena, Staples winning the honor in this division. Entering in the boys' quartet were Aitkin, Staples and Wadena with Aitkin winning first place. The last section in the ten o'clock program was the girls' ensemble with six towns competing, Bertha winning.

The eleven o'clock program was opened by the mixed chorus in the B division, the competing towns being Staples, Wadena and Aitkin. The selection that was sung by all the contestants entering was "O Gladsome Light." In this section the judges decided that Wadena was the winner. The Junior High School Mixed Chorus was then presented, singing the selection "A Gypsy Festival." Wadena again taking first place. This section of the program was concluded by the entries from Wadena, Staples and Aitkin Junior High School Boys' Glee Club singing the selection, "Friendship." Wadena taking first in this group also.

After dinner the program was resumed at one o'clock with the band entries from Staples and Wadena playing the Polish Dance by Scharwenka. Wadena taking first. In the C division band group made up of bands from Bertha and Wabikon, Bertha losing to Wabikon. The selection played was from the opera Aida, "Wings of the Morning" was the selection rendered by the Junior High School Girls' Glee Clubs. The towns represented were Aitkin, Brainerd, Staples, Little Falls, Wadena, Crosby-Ironton. Little Falls was announced the holder of first place in this section. Mixed quartets from Wadena, Bertha, Staples, Brainerd and Aitkin were the towns represented. Staples taking first place. This concluded the first half of the afternoon program. After a few minutes intermission the program was continued at 2:30 with the Division 'C' Girls' Glee Club with "How Sweet the Answer Echo Makes." Of the four towns competing—Wabikon, McGregor, Onamia and Bertha—Bertha won the highest honors. The second class was presented in Division B—the Senior Girls' Glee Clubs with the selection, "Beauteous Morn," in which the following towns were represented: Little Falls, Staples, Brainerd, Aitkin, Wadena, Crosby-Ironton. Wadena was given first place honors. The contest was ended with the Division B Senior Boys' Glee Clubs with the selection "Song of the Road." Crosby-Ironton the winner of this group, competed with Aitkin, Brainerd, Staples, Wadena and Little Falls.

At 4:30 the mass chorus convened in the auditorium and rehearsed for the evening performance under the direction of Miss Halvorson of Staples.

At 9:30 the Festival program brought a great many musically minded people to our high school auditorium. The program was a massed performance of the groups who participated in the contest during the day, together with several small groups who won first places in their class in the contest.

The program was as follows:

1. Band—Lawrence R. Hanson, director, Bertha, a. Selections from Aida—Verdi-Hayes; b. Polish Dance—Scharwenka; c. Iowa Band Law—King.

2. Girls' Glee Club—Miss Janet Halvorson, director, Staples, a. June Rhapsody—Daniels; b. How Sweet the Answer Echo Makes—Kriens; c. Beauteous Morn—German.

8. Chamber Music (Boys).

The trophy was presented to Wadena, which held the highest number of points. Wadena students proved themselves very capable of representing their school and city. This is the order of rank in the music contest: Wadena, Staples, Bertha, Aitkin, Brainerd and Crosby-Ironton.

The following people took the responsibility of the district committee: Bertha.

MOTHER

Our impression of Mother is as a young woman with a tiny baby in her arms and a radiant expression on her beautiful face. A lovely, modern Madonna.

When as a young child I came through all the child's fears and trials; a nurse who is always untiring and thoughtful. Then through the pettish adolescent years of her child the mother is as a foundation and mainstay; when things go wrong there is always Mother to confide in and be comforted by; when there is praise to be given one is sure of it from one's Mother, who undoubtedly was the incentive and the unpraised teacher.

When the son or daughter at last finds another companion and leaves her, it's always Mother who is there to come back to or seek advice from. As her hair greys and her face is netted with wrinkles she still smiles and says, "Carry on!"

After all the cares and troubles of life have taken their toll, Mother at last lays down her responsibilities and with one last weary smile, she loses her eyes and seeks reward in eternal happiness.

Do we appreciate these Mothers of ours as they should be but never expect? If you have a Mother, show our appreciation this coming Sunday which is the official day for that. But it is a starting and not only one. If your Mother is waiting in another sphere, cherish her memory and always respect and help another's mother.

CLEVER MAY DAY PROGRAM GIVEN

EVERY TYPE OF NUMBER USED FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF STUDENTS

May day was celebrated by the B. H. S. students in the form of an assembly program. Miss Tornstrom gave the usual announcements and Mr. Taylor reported the progress in track. The opening number on the program was a very appropriate song entitled "Welcome Sweet Springtime," which was rendered by a sextette composed of Virginia Reiki, Mildred Johnson, Frances Young, Marion Olson, Evelyn Loom, and Virginia Rowland. Following this the boys' chorus made up of 29 handsome youths sang "The Song of the Road." These boys represented Brainerd in the music contest held last Saturday. Gary Graham and Margaret Koop, students of Miss Marie Clark's dancing classes, gave solo dances. These charming youngsters received much applause from the student body. One of the alumni, Kathryn Sheets, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Knutsen, rendered two pleasing numbers, "Hanging Apples on a Lilac Tree" furnished a new idea for the girls in the audience. Two of our Seniors, Helen Sheets, and Edman Jernberg, laughfully sang about loveless couples. Evelyn Loom accompanied. The part of a rear seat driver was excellently portrayed by Irya Huhtala. It's a pity that the grown-ups couldn't hear his selection. Probably some of them would have recognized their own actions acted out by this clever girl. Mildred Johnson sang the "Kachumari Song" and "In a Little Old Garden" accompanied by Arlene Isaberg. Milly's pretty soprano voice thrilled more than one male heart. Two very pretty duets, "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "All the World is Waiting for the Sunrise" were given by our two namesakes, Virginia Reiki and Virginia Rowland. Their voices were very well balanced and we hope to hear more from them in the future. Next came seven desperate bobos: "Sax" Severson, Jim Garvey, Ivo Armlstrong, Gerry Cass, George Ivine, Eldred Rasch and Carl Holdek. Much humor was displayed by these witty Seniors. The Flora Dora girls have surely changed their appearance. The Junior high school Glee club was the final number on the program. "Wings of the Morning," also a contest selection was rendered by these up and coming young students. It concluded this exceptional musical program prepared by the Misses Graham, Olson, and Laipala. The student body is very grateful for their efforts.

Adding to the enjoyment of Senior dress up day, the Junior class sold home made candy, bars and suckers. Stands were set up at advantageous positions on all floors, where celebrating Seniors made a mad rush to the candy sales and pushed themselves ahead of astounded, more bashful Freshmen who were also seen parading the halls with suckers in their mouths. As to the financial end of it the Juniors made $24, thus helping the Prom fund.

Supt. F. C. Schwartz, Wadena; Supt. P. M. Atwood, Staples; Supt. Herseeth, Bertha.

YE EDITOR

As Mother's Day approaches, we feel a decided softness in our hearts for our dearest and best friend, our Mother. This day is one day especially set aside in which our only thoughts should be of mother. Although a comparatively new holiday, this one is observed by millions of people throughout the land, each of whom sees his own mother superior to that of any one else, which is as it should be not only on this day but all through life. Our mother is always our staunchest helpmate and most encouraging companion, always cheering us on to better accomplishments, higher goals. Through childhood, through school days, and through all our years, it's always mother that we turn to.

The little we can do to show our appreciation can never begin to repay her sacrifices, but we can never know the happiness it will bring her.

Therefore, we have attempted to show our appreciation for the million kindnesses which she has extended to us. We, the staff, wish to dedicate this edition of the Brainonian to all mothers.

PAT'S PATTERN

"Ow! Ouch! If you touch that arm again, I'll sock you!" This is quite a common phrase in our dear old school lately. Really, outsiders would think we had the most athletic bunch of students because of all the stiff muscles. Don't be disappointed; but it isn't so. Our faithful old athletes have finished their season and are enjoying a little rest but "there's no rest for the wicked" and how!

Last Monday and a week before that, Dr. Badoux came to school and gave free inoculations for diphtheria. The toxin-antitoxin treatment may be a help to ward off the sickness but oh, the suffering to be endured till then. Sleepless nights, puffy and sore arms, lethargy, and oh, such a list of consequences.

Every Monday for these last three weeks has been a proverbial "Blue Monday." No, people don't turn blue with envy but with fear when they think of another shot and the following week.

Some of the enthusiasm for this is, of course, caused by the long line-up waiting nervously for their turn and watching the fellows up ahead get theirs. It's quite an occasion for flinches and "Ah's!" when a needle breaks on some poor, trembling victim or someone faints.

Then, when one's turn finally comes, the odor of the alcohol makes one dizzy and hazy and then one feels a grasp and tiny prickles, then one is pushed on and the swimming sensation passes and one begins to shiver and sigh with relief because it's all over—if one can succeed in keeping it under cover and out of people's way till it heals.

Why is it Crosby has to have diphtheria and cause us this awful trial?

Lions Entertain Most Scholarly Senior Boys

Arthur Brown has the distinction of being the guest of honor at the Lion's club this week. The club are taking in succession the five boys with the best scholarships in the Senior class.

Each boy is invited to attend Lion dinners for five weeks. The boys who have and are being so honored are in order: Ray Wareing, Arden Miller, Stuart Patterson, Arthur Van Walker, and Arthur Brown.

It was meant that more boys should be entertained or rewarded but because of the little time left it has been reduced to five.

BIGGER AND BETTER!

The '31 Annual is nearly completed. The last of the art panels have been sent in, practically all of the written material is at the printers, the cover is ready, and all that is lacking is YOUR subscription. You certainly want one—your picture and your best pal's picture and your girl friend's picture—they're all in there. You know it only takes fifty cents to make a down payment, just the price of a show and a fudge sundae, and you're going to get something for your money if you buy an Annual. Any of the staff members will be glad to take your money—and give you a receipt in return. You'll have to buy soon, though, because they're going to send in the order for the number very soon and remember, it's nobody's loss but your own if you don't get a book.

ALUMNI

James M. Mayo, '26, has attained recognition in the industrial world. One of the three honor graduates of Dunwoody Industrial Institute, St. Paul, in the class of '30 he received a scholarship to the electrical school of the International Business Machine Corporation at Edicott, N. Y. He has just recently been placed at Houston, Texas, one of the machine centers of the corporation.

William Fitzharris, '26, vice president of the Junior class at St. Thomas college, is chairman of general arrangements committee for the annual Junior ball.

Don Geist, Gay Kinney, and Russell Nelson motivated to St. Cloud Saturday and attended the Prom that evening. Richard Ebert was one of the members of the Prom committee.

Carl Zapffe, student at the University of Minnesota engineering school, visited in Brainerd, Saturday and Sunday. He left Monday for Crosby where he and other members of his class will work in the mines for the next three months.

TENNIS ENTRANTS IN SECOND ROUND

MANY SNAPPY SETS PLAYED TO DETERMINE THE SCHOOL CHAMPION

Under the direction and leadership of Coach Dammann and the coaching staff, the victorious contestants of the first round of the tennis tourney have entered the second round on the various city courts.

During the period throughout the first round a few fast, speedy, colorful and flashy sets were played, especially in the Storm-Trommaid match, when Storm nosed out a close victory, 7-5, 6-4, while other interesting sets were played with the following winning the right to enter the second round: Burton Rice, Gaylord Kinney, Myles Hall, Estie Varner, Marion Newman, Melvin Newman, Robert Ebert, Drexel Geist, Ralph Lukens, and Dwight Crook while others have been dropped because of failing to play before the scheduled date.

The tourney will be finished by May 21, at which time the school champion will be announced.

SKOOL SKANDEL

Jean Lucas handed in her home work and the teacher examined it closely.

"Jean," she said, "this looks very much like your mother's writing. What have you got to say?"

"Well, teacher," said little Jeanie, after a lengthy pause, "come to think about it, I did use mother's fountain pen."

Mother did you know our professor is absent minded? It was said that he read an erroneous report of his death in a newspaper and sent himself a wreath.

Lowell, do you like girls who chatter, or the other sort?

What other sort?

Art Van Walk has grown two very beautiful sideburns. He must have some Spanish ancestors in the shadowy past to back him up.

Literature from various colleges is still pouring down upon the Seniors. If the Seniors got together on this we would have enough fuel for next winter.

Spring is here. Dave Templeton has picked out his fancy in the form of the chic, dark-haired Mary Hawkins. Watch your step, youngsters.

Another loving couple is Dorothy Opsahl and Hubert Coenen. They seem to enjoy each other's company.

Choose Rev. Valiant to Speak at Baccalaureate

Several Senior meetings were held last week during which the most important decision was that Rev. Valiant of the First Baptist church be asked to deliver the baccalaureate sermon. The Prom date was announced as being May 23—one week before graduation. After much discussion and voting the class song was changed to one to the tune of the Orange and the Black, a much more appropriate song. As a final touch to the meeting Miss Tornstrom made an urgent plea for Seniors to make a strenuous effort to sell annuals as there is a need for any amount of money that can be raised.

"Why is a kiss over the telephone like a straw hat?"
"Because it is not felt."

MEMBERS CHOSEN MUST MEET DIFFICULT REQUIREMENTS

Five athletes of Brainerd High received the honor of becoming members of the National Athletic Scholarship society this year. They are Howard Hass, Thomas Koek, Stuart Patterson, Nathan Schuetz and Ray Wareing.

The requirements of this society are: to earn a letter in at least one major sport; to have an average in three consecutive semesters that is equal to or higher than the average of the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship. Because of the difficulty of entrance requirements the list of entries are each year of a very small select group.

Those members who in previous years received this honor are: Vernon Marshall, Joe Gabiou and Gerald Cass.

EXCHANGE

The X-Ray, published by the students of Sacramento, Calif., is among our last week's exchanges. At the top of this paper it says "The School That's Different" and it certainly lives up to it. We like its style.

President Coffman recently made the statement that the Minnesota system of student guidance, direction, and counseling has grown so in the past years, that many other schools in the country have copied the Gopher system. President Coffman also says that a student can probably find out more about himself by attending the University of Minnesota than by any other way.

The play "Captain Applejack" seems to be quite popular. Six of the schools on our exchange have presented it this spring. Winona is the last one to present theirs.

Here's an editorial from The Pine Needle, Cloquet, Minn.:

To Study—Or Not To Study

Everyone has his own way in which he chooses to spend his school hours. Some prefer to do as little studying as possible and try to have a good time—and incidentally, sometimes disturb those who would like to study. Then again there are those who choose to do hard work. Which of these two types is going to be happier or more successful in the future? Time will tell. You know the old saying, "Ignorance is bliss." Possibly the former will be happier in the future, but we doubt it; for happiness is more or less based on success. But just guess at random, which will be more successful in life, for instance, in finding a suitable vocation, one which he will enjoy. Those who do their best to attain their purpose have a certain feeling of satisfaction after having tackled a difficult proposition and did it to the best of their ability. Not only this; but they acquire habits of perseverance or "stick-to-it-ness." They come to realize that it is not the goal which they work for that counts, but the work done in attaining that goal.

Chic Models Fashioned by H. S. Seamstresses

First year home economics students have completed their first large project of the year, smart little dress, latest Parisian fashion made by and for themselves. All types have been made, some well and some not so well, but all the objects of their fashion's proudest boasts. There are graceful, flattery volles, smart, trim sports models in Shantung, linen and prints, gaily figured house dresses, and the very newest, pajama dresses. The colors range from white all through the rainbow of fashion color chart, with plaids, polka dots and prints lending to the prismatic array.

All of these models were exhibited to fellow class members last Friday, forming a style show which would compete with any of Paris' gayest openings. The blushing models were criticized as to fit, style, suitability of color, and smartness and if, occasionally, a seam puckered, a collar wasn't quite right, or a sleeve was in crooked, these faults were overlooked, and the seamstresses will profit from them in their next project.

The Kidnaping Problem

KIDNAPING is beginning to play a prominent part in the criminal developments of recent years, says the Minneapolis Tribune. The holding for ransom of wealthy or well-to-do men has become a regular business in gangland. How common the occurrence is can be judged by comparing the national furor that arose over the kidnaping of young Cudahy by Pat Crowe and the comparative indifference with which the news of a kidnaping is now received. We are growing so accustomed to kidnaping that it has lost its capacity to shock us. We have apparently resigned ourselves to its as just another detail in the growing business of crime.

Kidnaping presents a peculiar problem to the police and gives a peculiar protection to the kidnaper. The natural tendency of the relatives and friends of the victim is to comply with the kidnappers' ransom demands. They want the victim restored to liberty and they do not care how this restoration is brought about. They have little or no interest in the apprehension of the kidnappers and not infrequently they conspire with the kidnappers to insure their safety.

In almost every instance of kidnaping we find the police complaining of a lack of co-operation on the part of the victim's family. The family refuses to give the police information that might lead to the kidnappers' arrest. Negotiations with the kidnappers are carried on independently of the police and there is what virtually amounts to a conspiracy between the family and the kidnappers to thwart the police.

All this is easily understandable. The family, with a member held a prisoner under the threat of torture or of death, can hardly be expected to give a great amount of consideration to the public interest involved in the affair. The matter is too poignantly personal for any such display of public spirit. The whole thought of the family is to rescue the father, husband or son on any possible terms even to the extent of compounding with the kidnappers.

While this is easy to understand, it is none the less a part of the problem that society must solve in attempting to deal with the kidnaper. Rarely is the kidnaper caught and punished. Usually the victim of a kidnaping has had an experience which removes any notion of reprisal by law from his mind. He is no more disposed to help the police after he is free than were his relatives when he was a captive. All this combines to make kidnaping a fairly safe criminal activity and we suspect a profitable one as well.

The Good Old Days

TIME was, in this busy, widespread country of ours, that there was no thought of beauty, of recreation, of sanitation. In building a house or a town the hardy pioneers considered only grim necessity. A house was nothing but four walls, a puncheon floor and a roof to shelter the family from wind and weather.

A town was nothing but a collection of such shelters with a few larger, barer structures to serve as church, school, town hall or combined store and postoffice.

That time is gone forever. Today beauty of design, beauty of surroundings and beauty of perfect construction take a leading place in the planning of either a home or town. A place to play is now a necessity and the home has its yard and its children's playroom in the attic or playhouse in the garden, while the town must have its park and ballgrounds, golf links or athletic field.

Sanitation is now perhaps the first consideration—that which was never thought of in the older days. Today sunshine and fresh air must be let into the house and clean water and effective sewers must be supplied the town.

Talk about the good old days, but let's live in these days and be thankful that we do.

Conference on Social Work

THE National Conference of Social Work and Associate Groups will be held in Minneapolis from June 14 to 20. The range of discussions covers a wide field.

Fifteen meetings on unemployment are scheduled by the various divisions and social groups. These have all been planned to present different aspects of the problem.

Other topics are conserving wholesome family life for children; what criteria exist in the field of delinquency for the evaluation of success or failure in treatment; future administration of criminal justice in America; state public health programs; the drift to public relief; American doles; is the American neighborhood disappearing; the dangers and advantages of sex instruction for children; agency autonomy and community organization; the future of social work; significant trends in the development of foreign-born groups in the United States; research and social work; the child and propaganda.

These are but a few of the subjects coming up for consideration.

Mother's Day at the University

MOTHER'S DAY at the University of Minnesota will be May 9, according to announcement by President Lotus D. Coffman.

Arrangements are being made by a committee headed by Dean Edward E. Nicholson of student affairs, and Anne Dudley Blitz, dean of women. Invitations were mailed to the mothers early last week. Mothers will attend classes with their children in the morning and during the afternoon will be entertained at teas, dramatic performances and student gatherings in fraternity and sorority houses. A banquet at the Minnesota Union will conclude the day's activities.

Usually 1,100 mothers attend the activities with several hundred remaining for dinner. Brainerd is expected to send a large group of mothers, for the Brainerd colony of students at the University is a large one.

ONE may be able to raise onions and potatoes, cauliflower and egg plant, gladioli and dahlias, but when it comes to fixing up a lawn and making it look decent after last year's drought, it requires real genius.

Crows, hawks and gophers were fair game for sportsmen of Meeker county early in May during the annual crow hunt. Crows counted two points in a hunter's bag, hawks three and gophers one.

THE moderate admission prices in effect at Brainerd movies brought large crowds to the city Sunday. One noticed it in the large number of cars parked throughout the city.

WADENA WINS FIRST PLACE IN DISTRICT MUSIC CONTEST AT BRAINERD

REPRESENTATIVES FROM TEN SCHOOLS VIE FOR MUSICAL HONORS

Saturday morning marked the beginning of the fifth district High School Music Contest at the Brainerd High School. The ten schools entered in the contest were: Division B, Aitkin, Brainerd, Crosby-Ironton, Little Falls, Staples, Wadena; Division C, Bertha, McGregor, Onamia and Wabkon.

The morning program opened at ten o'clock with the chambered music ensemble composed of wind instruments. The contestants were Aitkin, Wabkon, Bertha, Staples and Wadena. Staples winning the honor in this division. Entering in the boys' quartet were Aitkin, Staples and Wadena with Aitkin winning first place. The last section in the ten o'clock program was the girls' ensemble with six towns competing, Bertha winning.

The eleven o'clock program was opened by the mixed chorus in the B division, the competing towns being Staples, Wadena and Aitkin. The selection that was sung by all the contestants entering was "O Gladsome Light." In this section the judges decided that Wadena was the winner. The Junior High School Mixed Chorus was then presented, singing the selection "A Gypsy Festival." Wadena again taking first place. This section of the program was concluded by the entries from Wadena, Staples and Aitkin Junior High School Boys' Glee Club singing the selection, "Friendship." Wadena taking first in this group also.

After dinner the program was resumed at one o'clock with the band entries from Staples and Wadena playing the Polish Dance by Scharwenka. Wadena taking first. In the C division band group made up of bands from Bertha and Wabkon, Bertha losing to Wabkon. The selection played was from the opera Aida, "Wings of the Morning" was the selection rendered by the Junior High School Girls' Glee Clubs. The towns represented were Aitkin, Brainerd, Staples, Little Falls, Wadena, Crosby-Ironton. Little Falls was announced the holder of first place in this section. Mixed quartet from Wadena, Bertha, Staples, Brainerd and Aitkin were the towns represented. Staples taking first place. This concluded the first half of the afternoon program. After a few minutes intermission the program was continued at 2:30 with the Division "C" Girls' Glee Club with "How Sweet the Answer Echo Makes." Of the four towns competing—Wabkon, McGregor, Onamia and Bertha—Bertha won the highest honors. The second class was presented in Division B—the Senior Girls' Glee Clubs with the selection "Beauteous Morn," in which the following towns were represented: Little Falls, Staples, Brainerd, Aitkin, Wadena, Crosby-Ironton. Wadena was given first place honors. The contest was ended with the Division B Senior Boys' Glee Clubs with the selection "Song of the Road." Crosby-Ironton the winner of this group, competed with Aitkin, Brainerd, Staples, Wadena and Little Falls.

At 4:30 the mass chorus convened in the auditorium and rehearsed for the evening performance under the direction of Miss Halvorson of Staples.

At 9:30 the Festival program brought a great many musically minded people to our high school auditorium. The program was a massed performance of the groups who participated in the contest during the day, together with several small groups who won first places in their class in the contest.

The program was as follows:

1. Band—Lawrence R. Hanson, director, Bertha, a Selections from Aida—Verdi-Hayes; b. Polish Dance—Scharwenka; c. Iowa Band Law—King.
2. Girls' Glee Club—Miss Janet Halvorson, director, Staples, a. June Rhapsody—Daniels; b. How Sweet the Answer Echo Makes—Kriens; c. Beauteous Morn—German.

10. Presentation of trophy to the school winning the largest number of points in the contest—Superintendent F. C. Schwartz, Wadena. The trophy was presented to Wadena, which held the highest number of points. Wadena students proved themselves very capable of representing their school and city. This is the order of rank in the music contest: Wadena, Staples, Bertha, Aitkin, Brainerd and Crosby-Ironton.

The following people took the responsibility of the district committee:

MOTHER

Our impression of Mother is as a young woman with a tiny baby in her arms and a radiant expression on her beautiful face. A lovely, modern Madonna.

Then as a constant companion through all the child's trials and tribulations; a nurse who is always untiring and thoughtful. Then through the pettish adolescent years of her child the mother is as a foundation and mainstay; when things go wrong there is always Mother to confide in and be comforted by; when there is praise to be given one is sure of it from one's Mother, who undoubtedly was the incentive and the unpraised teacher.

When the son or daughter at last finds another companion and leaves her, it's always Mother who is there to come back to or seek advice from. As her hair greys and her face is netted with wrinkles she still smiles and says, "Carry on!"

After all the cares and troubles of this life have taken their toll, Mother at last lays down her responsibilities and with one last weary smile, she loses her eyes and seeks reward in eternal happiness.

Do we appreciate these Mothers of us as they should be but never expect? If you have a Mother, show your appreciation this coming Sunday which is the official day for that. Put it to be a starting and not only one. If your Mother is waiting in another sphere, cherish her memory and always respect and help another's Mother.

CLEVER MAY DAY PROGRAM GIVEN

EVERY TYPE OF NUMBER USED FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF STUDENTS

May day was celebrated by the B. E. S. students in the form of an assembly program. Miss Tornstrom gave the usual announcements and Mr. Taylor reported the progress in track. The opening number on the program was a very appropriate song, entitled "Welcome Sweet Springtime" which was rendered by a sextette composed of Virginia Reiki, Mildred Johnson, Frances Young, Marion Olson, Evelyn Loom, and Virginia Rowland. Following this the boys' chorus made up of 20 handsome youths sang "The Song of the Road," these boys represented Brainerd in the music contest held last Saturday.

Iary Graham and Margaret Koop, students of Miss Marie Clark's dancing classes, gave solo dances. These charming youngsters received much applause from the student body. One of the alumni, Kathryn Sheets, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Knutsen, rendered two pleasing numbers, "Hanging Apples on a Lilac Tree" furnished a new idea for the girls in the audience. Two of our Seniors, Helen Sheets, and Edman Jernberg, laughingly sang about loveless couples. Evelyn Loom accompanied. The part of a rear seat driver was excellently portrayed by Irya Huhtala. It's a pity that the grown-ups couldn't hear his selection. Probably some of them would have recognized their own actions acted out by this clever miss. Mildred Johnson sang the "Kashmiri Song" and "In a Little Old Garden" accompanied by Arline Jagberg. Milly's pretty soprano voice thrilled more than one male heart. Two very pretty duets, "In The Garden of Tomorrow" and "All the World's Waiting for the Sunrise" were given by our two namesakes, Virginia Reiki and Virginia Rowland. Their voices were very well balanced and we hope to hear more from them in the future. Next came seven desperate robbers: "Sox" Severtson, Jim Garvey, Joe Armstrong, Gerry Cass, George Irvine, Eldred Raach and Carl Holick. Much humor was displayed by these witty Seniors. The Flora Dora girls have surely changed their appearance. The Junior high school Glee club was the final number on the program. "Wings of the Morning," also a contest selection was rendered by these up and coming young students. It concluded this exceptional musical program prepared by the Misses Graham, Olson, and Laipile. The student body is very grateful for their efforts.

Adding to the enjoyment of Senior dress up day, the Junior class sold home made candy, bars and suckers. Stands were set up at advantageous positions on all floors, where celebrating Seniors made a mad rush to the candy sales and pushed themselves ahead of astounded, more bashful Freshmen who were also seen parading the halls with suckers in their mouths. As to the financial end of it the Juniors made $24, thus helping the Prom fund.

Supt. F. C. Schwartz, Wadena; Supt. P. M. Atwood, Staples; Supt. Herseeth, Bertha.

YE EDITOR

As Mother's Day approaches, we feel a decided softness in our hearts for our dearest and best friend, our Mother. This day is one day especially set aside in which our only thoughts should be of mother. Although a comparatively new holiday, this one is observed by millions of people throughout the land, each of whom sees his own mother superior to that of any one else, which is as it should be not only on this day but all through life. Our mother is always our staunchest helpmate and most encouraging companion, always cheering us on to better accomplishments, higher goals. Through childhood, through school days, and through all our teens, she always mother that we turn to.

The little we can do to show our appreciation can never begin to repay her sacrifice, but we can never know the happiness it will bring her.

Therefore, we have attempted to show our appreciation for the million kindnesses which she has extended to us. We, the staff, wish to dedicate this edition of the Brainonian to all mothers.

PAT'S PATTERN

"Ow! Ouch! If you touch that arm again, I'll sock you!" This is quite a common phrase in our dear old school lately. Really, outsiders would think we had the most athletic bunch of students because of all the stiff muscles. Don't be disappointed; but it isn't so. Our faithful old athletes have finished their season and are enjoying a little rest but "there's no rest for the wicked" and how!

Last Monday and a week before that, Dr. Badenau came to school and gave free inoculations for diphtheria. The toxin-antitoxin treatment may be a help to ward off the sickness but oh, the suffering to be endured till then. Sleepless nights, puffy and sore arms, lethargy, and oh, such a list of consequences.

Every Monday for these last three weeks has been a proverbial "Blue Monday." No, people don't turn blue with envy but with fear when they think of another shot and the following week.

Some of the enthusiasm for this is, of course, caused by the long line-up waiting nervously for their turn and watching the fellows up ahead get theirs. It's quite an occasion for flinches and "Ah's!" when a needle breaks on some poor, trembling victim or someone faints.

Then, when one's turn finally comes, the odor of the alcohol makes one dizzy and hazy and then one feels a grasp and tiny prickles, then one is pushed on and the swimming sensation passes and one begins to shiver and sigh with relief because it's all over—if one can succeed in keeping it under cover and out of people's way till it heals.

Why is it Crosby has to have diphtheria and cause us this awful trial?

Lions Entertain Most Scholarly Senior Boys

Arthur Brown has the distinction of being the guest of honor at the Lion's club this week. The club are taking in succession the five boys with the best scholarships in the Senior class.

Each boy is invited to attend Lion dinners for five weeks. The boys who have and are being so honored are in order: Ray Wareing, Arden Miller, Stuart Patterson, Arthur Van Walk, and Arthur Brown.

It was meant that more boys should be entertained or rewarded but because of the little time left it has been reduced to five.

BIGGER AND BETTER!

The '31 Annual is nearly completed. The last of the art panels have been sent in, practically all of the written material is at the printers, the cover is ready, and all that is lacking is YOUR subscription. You certainly want one—your picture and your best pal's picture and your girl friend's picture—they're all in there. You know it only takes fifty cents to make a down payment, just the price of a show and a fudge sundae, and you're going to get something for your money if you buy an Annual. Any of the staff members will be glad to take your money—and give you a receipt in return. You'll have to buy soon, though, because they're going to send in the order for the number very soon and remember, it's nobody's loss but your own if you don't get a book.

ALUMNI

James M. Mayo, '26, has attained recognition in the industrial world. One of the three honor graduates of Dunwoody Industrial Institute, St. Paul, in the class of '30 he received a scholarship to the electrical school of the International Business Machine Corporation at Edicott, N. Y. He has just recently been placed at Houston, Texas, one of the machine centers of the corporation.

William Fitzharris, '26, vice president of the Junior class at St. Thomas college, is chairman of general arrangements committee for the annual Junior ball.

Don Geist, Gay Kinney, and Russell Nelson motored to St. Cloud Saturday and attended the Prom that evening. Richard Ebert was one of the members of the Prom committee.

Carl Zapffe, student at the University of Minnesota engineering school, visited in Brainerd, Saturday and Sunday. He left Monday for Crosby where he and other members of his class will work in the mines for the next three months.

TENNIS ENTRANTS IN SECOND ROUND

MANY SNAPPY SETS PLAYED TO DETERMINE THE SCHOOL CHAMPION

Under the direction and leadership of Coach Dammann and the coaching staff, the victorious contestants of the first round of the tennis tourney have entered the second round on the various city courts.

During the period throughout the first round a few fast, speedy, colorful and flashy sets were played, especially in the Storm-Trommald match, when Storm nosed out a close victory, 7-5, 6-4, while other interesting sets were played with the following winning the right to enter the second round: Burton Rice, Gaylord Kinney, Myles Hall, Estie Varner, Marion Newman, Melvin Newman, Robert Ebert, Drexel Geist, Ralph Lukens, and Dwight Curo while others have been dropped because of failing to play before the scheduled date.

The tourney will be finished by May 21, at which time the school champion will be announced.

SKOOL SKANDEL

Jean Lucas handed in her home work and the teacher examined it closely.

"Jean," she said, "this looks very much like your mother's writing. What have you got to say?"

"Well, teacher," said little Jeanie, after a lengthy pause, "come to think about it, I did use mother's fountain pen."

Mother did you know our professor is absent minded? It was said that he read an erroneous report of his death in a newspaper and sent himself a wreath.

Lewell, do you like girls who chatter, or the other sort?

What other sort?

Art Van Walk has grown two very beautiful sideburns. He must have some Spanish ancestors in the shadowy past to back him up.

Literature from various colleges is still pouring down upon the Seniors. If the Seniors got together on this we would have enough fuel for next winter.

Spring is here. Dave Templeton has picked out his fancy in the form of the chic, dark-haired Mary Hawkins. Watch your step, youngsters.

Another loving couple is Dorothy Opsahl and Hubert Coenen. They seem to enjoy each other's company.

Choose Rev. Valiant to Speak at Baccalaureate

Several Senior meetings were held last week during which the most important decision was that Rev. Valiant of the First Baptist church be asked to deliver the baccalaureate sermon. The Prom date was announced as being May 23—one week before graduation. After much discussion and voting the class song was changed to one to the tune of the Orange and the Black, a much more appropriate song. As a final touch to the meeting Miss Tornstrom made an urgent plea for Seniors to make a strenuous effort to sell annuals as there is a need for any amount of money that can be raised.

"Why is a kiss over the telephone like a straw hat?"

"Because it is not felt."

MEMBERS CHOSEN MUST MEET DIFFICULT REQUIREMENTS

Five athletes of Brainerd High received the honor of becoming members of the National Athletic Scholarship society this year. They are Howard Hass, Thomas Koeck, Stuart Patterson, Nathan Schuety and Ray Wareing.

The requirements of this society are: to earn a letter in at least one major sport; to have an average in three consecutive semesters that is equal to or higher than the average of the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship. Because of the difficulty of entrance requirements the list of entries are each year of a very small select group.

Those members who in previous years received this honor are: Vernon Marshall, Joe Gabiou and Gerald Cass.

EXCHANGE

The X-Ray, published by the students of Sacramento, Calif., is among our last week's exchanges. At the top of this paper it says "The School That's Different" and it certainly lives up to it. We like its style.

President Coffman recently made the statement that the Minnesota system of student guidance, direction, and counseling has grown so in the past years, that many other schools in the country have copied the Gopher system. President Coffman also says that a student can probably find out more about himself by attending the University of Minnesota than by any other way.

The play "Captain Applejack" seems to be quite popular. Six of the schools on our exchange have presented it this spring. Winona is the last one to present theirs.

Here's an editorial from The Pine Needle, Cloquet, Minn.:

To Study—Or Not To Study

Everyone has his own way in which he chooses to spend his school hours. Some prefer to do a little studying as possible and try to have a good time and incidentally, sometimes disturb those who would like to study. Then again there are those who choose to do hard work. Which of these two types is going to be happier or more successful in the future? Time will tell. You know the old saying, "Ignorance is bliss." Possibly the former will be happier in the future, but we doubt it; for happiness is more or less based on success. But just guess at random, which will be more successful in life, for instance, in finding a suitable vocation, one which he will enjoy. Those who do their best to attain their purpose have a certain feeling of satisfaction after having tackled a difficult proposition and did it to the best of their ability. Not only this; but they acquire habits of perseverance or "stick-to-it-ness." They come to realize that it is not the goal which they work for that counts, but the work done in attaining that goal.

BEST BALL OF ENTIRE CAREER

LAST SEASON HE WON 11 AND

GOING BETTER

ED BRANDT CONTINUES SENSATIONAL MOUND WORK FOR BOSTON BRAVES

By LEO M. PETERSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 5.—Age, that arch-enemy of all athletes, is having a hard time catching up with old Clarence Mitchell.

Since the 42-year-old spitball portside came to the New York Giants two years ago, after the St. Louis Cardinals decided he was through as a major leaguer, Mitchell has pitched the best ball of his long career. His work during the latter part of the 1930 season was a big factor in the drive that landed the Giants third place in the final National League standings.

This season promises to be even better than last when he won eleven and lost three games.

Mitchell registered his fourth triumph of 1931 yesterday when the Giants defeated the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 3. The Robins got but six hits off Mitchell and only one of their runs were earned. Adolph Luque, starting his first game of the season, was the victim of the Giants early inning attacks.

Ed Brandt continued his sensational mound work when he let the Philadelphia Phillies down with three hits as the Boston Braves won, 4 to 3. Errors aided the Braves in their run scoring.

The Chicago Cubs, after three straight defeats at the hands of St. Louis, came to life and walloped the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 1. Hack Wilson, major league home run king last year, drove out his second homer of the season as Pat Malone limited the Reds to six scattered blows.

The other National League clubs, Pittsburgh and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Although defeated 3 to 1 by the St. Louis Browns, the Cleveland Indians maintained their leadership in the American League. Stewart allowed Cleveland nine hits in scoring his third victory of 1931 while the Browns got but five off Hudlin.

The Chicago White Sox continued their sloppy play in the field and lost to the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 3. The White Sox made four errors, boosting their number of misplays in their last eight games to 24.

Wishing to take no more chances with his star, Manager Joe McCarthy sent Babe Ruth to first base and Lou Gehrig to the outfield as the New York Yankees lost to Washington, 7 to 3. By having Ruth on first, his injured leg is not expected to be placed under the strain it would receive in the outer gardens. "Sad" Sam Jones yielded eleven hits, two of them going to Ruth, but managed to keep them fairly well scattered.

In the other American League contest, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 5. The Red Sox bombarded four Athletic pitchers for 15 hits, including home runs by Rothrock and Pickering.

The St. Paul-Louisville clash for first place in the American Association had turned today into a rout for the latter team. From a commanding position which threatened to give the Colonels a substantial nest egg for the season, they have plunged to a poor second, nearly 100 points behind the Saints.

St. Paul won again yesterday, 10-5. Last week Louisville was winning on a minority of hits, but in the Monday game, the safeties stood 13-all, indicative of the slump into which the 1930 champions have fallen. Further, the Colonels had a 5 to 3 lead at the end of the sixth, and watched it fade away.

Columbus dropped into a tie with Milwaukee for third place by taking a 12 to 13 defeat from that same team. With the scoring in most of the innings, the loosely played game was anybody's until the last Brewer was out. Milwaukee won on 12 hits, three less than the Red Birds had.

In a ten-inning game Toledo nosed out Kansas City, 3 to 2. Three errors proved disastrous to the Blues, and Fette allowed Toledo 10 hits, twice as many as his own team gathered.

By virtue of a 5-4 victory over the Montgomery Ward team, the All-Stars went into second place in the city kittenball league last night although they were playing their first city-league game of the season.

A crowd of about 150 people saw the contest.

"Cannonball" Werner, pinch hitting for Lammon in the sixth inning, got the longest hit of the game, a three-bagger. Wards tried a number of pinch hitters in the closing innings in a vain attempt to close the gap in the scores.

The umpire stopped a hard hit ball by Melby in the seventh inning.

Batteries for last night's game were: All-Stars—G. Tribur and Tribur; Wards—Perry and Lammon, Trask.

J. C. Penneys meet the Bye Clothiers in another city league game at the N. P. ball park at 6:15 o'clock tonight and Wards play the Thompson Oils there tomorrow evening.

SUNKIST KID

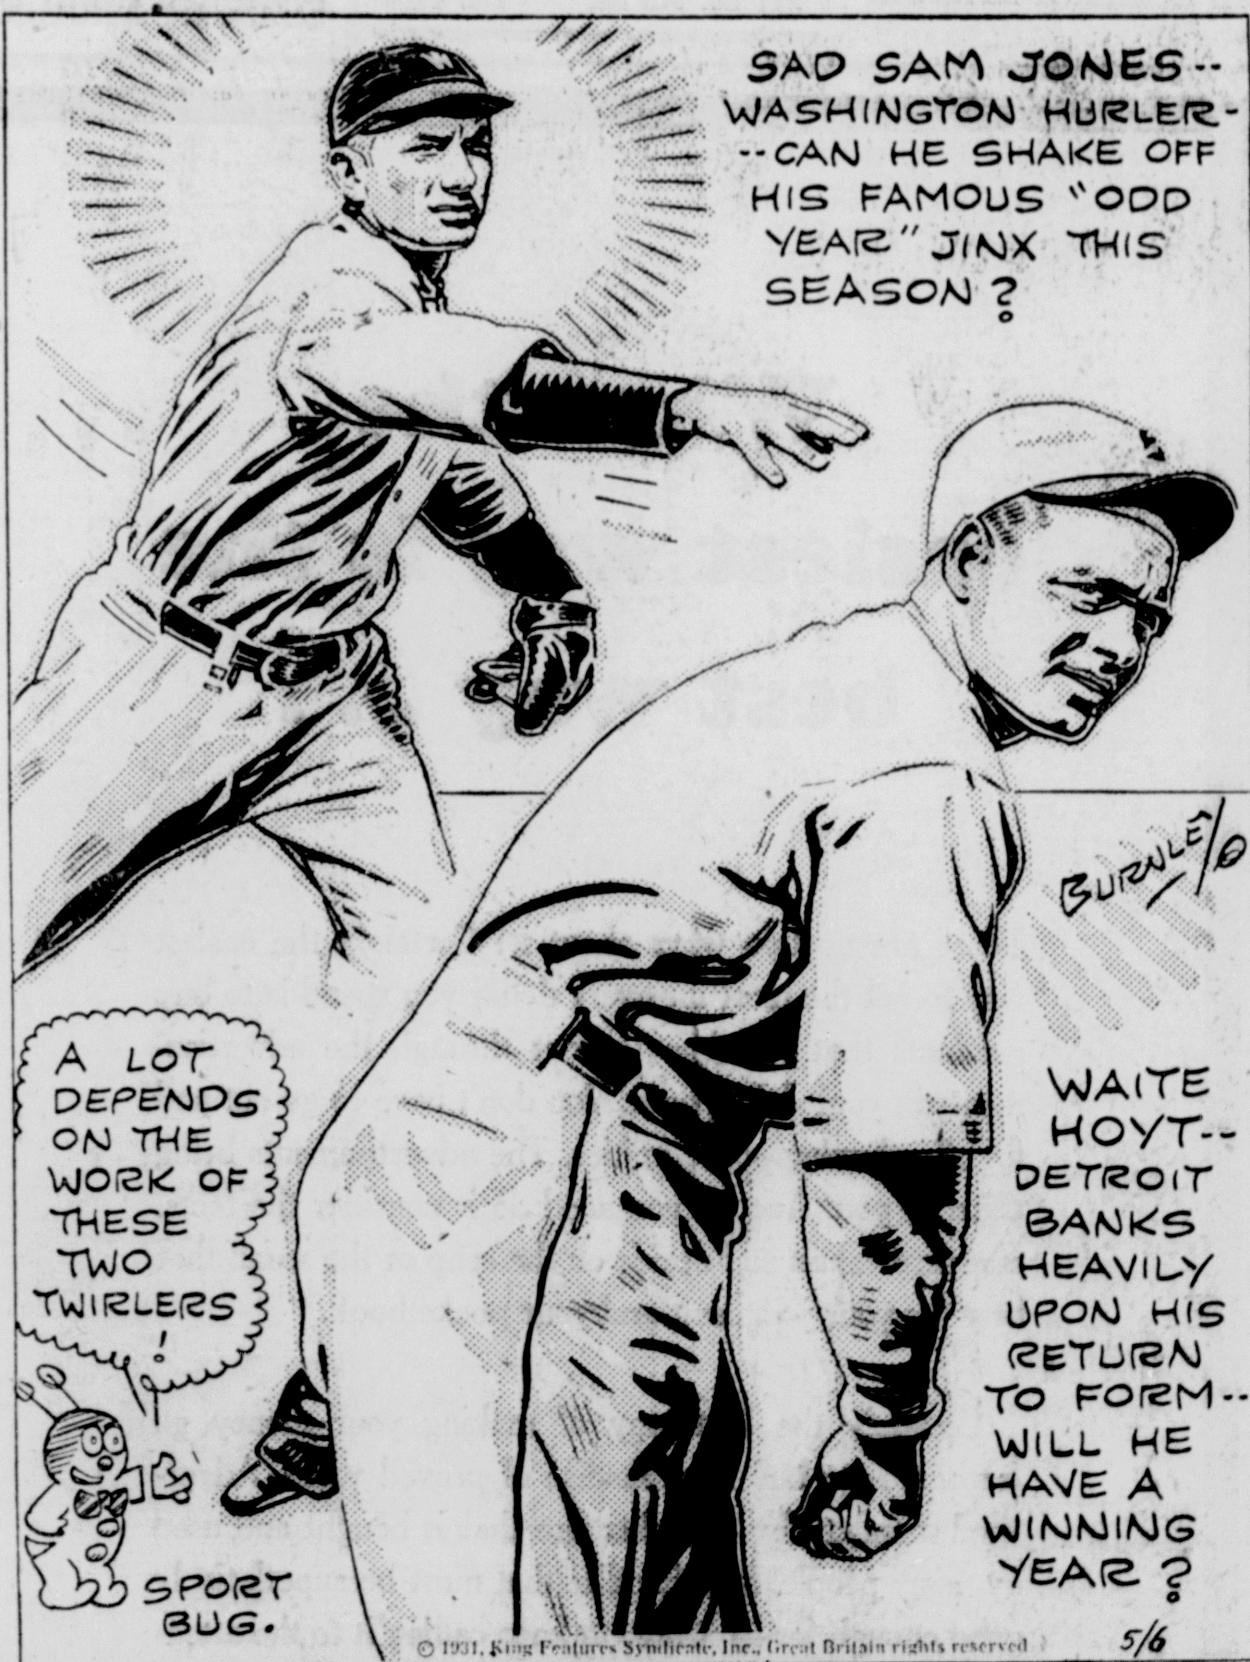

FULL SPEED AHEAD

Within a few days an 18-year-old California miss, Loretta Turnbull, will open up the motor of her boat "Sunkist Kid" in an effort to bring to Uncle Sam first honors in the regatta at Lake Garda, Italy. Danger means nothing to the California girl, holder of the national women's championship in outboard motorboat racing and this country's only entry in the international regatta. "There's always danger, but what of it?" she remarked on sailing. Miss Turnbull's tiny, frail craft is of her own design and is capable of 48 miles an hour. The girl champion has competed in 250 races during the past four years, winning 48 trophies, 43 of them in competition with men. Here's hoping she adds to her laurels in far off Italy.

FIRST-CLASS baseball teams may have as many as four great pitchers each on their rosters but there's one, perhaps two, of these hurlers on whose form pennant hopes are chiefly based. They are the so-called "pivotal pitchers" around which smart managers build championship plans.

This year, that "pivotal" class includes Sam Jones of the Washington Senators and Waite Hoyt of the Detroit Tigers. If either of these veterans meets managerial expectations his team will be up front in the American League standing. If either fails, it will take more than ordinary efforts on the part of their teammates to keep in the first division.

Of course, the Senators have several riflemen who are younger and presumably more able than Jones. They have Lloyd Brown, Irving Hadley, Al Crowder and the youngsters, Ad Liska and Bob Burke; also that relief specialist, Fred Marberry. Brown, Crowder and Marberry look like real aces, but even "three bullets" seldom win a pennant pot. However, if "Sad Sam" comes through, Washington's chances will be bright. And Manager Walter Johnson, who ought to know his pitchers, is quietly counting on Jones to be the Senators' fourth ace, provided "Sam" can duck his traditional every-other-year jinx which has alternated good and bad seasons throughout his career. Jones was good in 1930, winning 15 and losing 7. If he can do as well in 1931, Washington will be thoroughly satisfied.

As to Waite Hoyt, former Yankee "boy wonder," he showed splendid form in training but was knocked out of the box by Cleveland in his first start this season. Hoyt's 32, and has been pitching pro ball for almost sixteen years. He's facing a crisis this year. Three other vets are in the same boat with him at Detroit—George Uhle, Earl Whitehill and Vic Sorrell. A flock of young mound-men are being groomed to succeed 'em later on. However, the Tigers' hopes rest now on the old pitchers and of these Hoyt seems to be the "pivot." Despite his bad start, Hoyt is liable to justify all such expectations.

EVER since Gus Sonnenberg tackled wrestlers even more vigorously than he did his books at Detroit and Dartmouth universities, thereby winning (and since losing) one of the world's two heavyweight mat championships, the ancient sport of grapple-and-grime-and-grunt has enjoyed a sort of academic sheen, if not an actual highbrow polish.

Indeed, "Dynamite Gus" lost his title to Ed "Don" George, who once went to college out Michigan way; but recently "Strangler" Lewis proved that rascally was not an exclusive sheepskin game by tossing George for the crown.

With Lewis, who never went to college, now champion, a call is heard for competent collegians to regain the title. Wrestling is enjoying a prosperous boom and already some excellent prospects have responded to the summons as they would to their old college yells. Among these is Joe Savoldi, great Notre Dame fullback, whose grid career at South Bend was nipped at zenith by Cupid and the college authorities when it was discovered that the mighty line-plunger had married.

Savoldi played some pro football last Fall and then took to the mat, where he has shown tremendous strength and considerable ability in throwing hardy but mediocre opponents.

Two other great grid stars—Len Macaluso, Colgate, and Hank Bruder, Northwestern—are actively nursing hopes of some day flopping either Lewis or Jim Londoe, the other mat champ. Like Savoldi, they're learning in public by overwhelming an array of not too dangerous grapplers.

Curiously enough, Savoldi and Sonnenberg have the same birthday—March 4. That may have prophetic significance.

AGE HAS HARD TIME TO DOWN OLD CLARENCE MITCHELL

NOW PITCHING BEST BALL OF ENTIRE CAREER

LAST SEASON HE WON 11 AND
LOST 3 GAMES, THIS YEAR
GOING BETTER

ED BRANDT CONTINUES SENSATIONAL MOUND WORK FOR BOSTON BRAVES

By LEO M. PETERSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 5.—Age, that arch-enemy of all athletes, is having a hard time catching up with old Clarence Mitchell.

Since the 42-year-old spitball portside came to the New York Giants two years ago, after the St. Louis Cardinals decided he was through as a major leaguer, Mitchell has pitched the best ball of his long career. His work during the latter part of the 1930 season was a big factor in the drive that landed the Giants third place in the final National League standings.

This season promises to be even better than last when he won eleven and lost three games.

Mitchell registered his fourth triumph of 1931 yesterday when the Giants defeated the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 3. The Robins got but six hits off Mitchell and only one of their runs were earned. Adolph Luque, starting his first game of the season, was the victim of the Giants early inning attacks.

Ed Brandt continued his sensational mound work when he let the Philadelphia Phillies down with three hits as the Boston Braves won, 4 to 3. Errors aided the Braves in their run scoring.

The Chicago Cubs, after three straight defeats at the hands of St. Louis, came to life and walloped the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 1. Hack Wilson, major league home run king last year, drove out his second homer of the season as Pat Malone limited the Reds to six scattered blows.

The other National League clubs, Pittsburgh and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Although defeated 3 to 1 by the St. Louis Browns, the Cleveland Indians maintained their leadership in the American League. Stewart allowed Cleveland nine hits in scoring his third victory of 1931 while the Browns got but five off Hudlin.

The Chicago White Sox continued their sloppy play in the field and lost to the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 3. The White Sox made four errors, boosting their number of misplays in their last eight games to 24.

Wishing to take no more chances with his star, Manager Joe McCarthy sent Babe Ruth to first base and Lou Gehrig to the outfield as the New York Yankees lost to Washington, 7 to 3. By having Ruth on first, his injured leg is not expected to be placed under the strain it would receive in the outer gardens. "Sad" Sam Jones yielded eleven hits, two of them going to Ruth, but managed to keep them fairly well scattered.

In the other American League contest, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 5. The Red Sox bombarded four Athletic pitchers for 15 hits, including home runs by Rothrock and Pickering.

ST. PAUL-LOUISVILLE CLASH FOR FIRST PLACE TURNS TO ROUT FOR LATTER (By United Press)

The St. Paul-Louisville clash for first place in the American Association had turned today into a rout for the latter team. From a commanding position which threatened to give the Colonels a substantial nest egg for the season, they have plunged to a poor second, nearly 100 points behind the Saints.

St. Paul won again yesterday, 10-5. Last week Louisville was winning on a minority of hits, but in the Monday game, the safeties stood 13-all, indicative of the slump into which the 1930 champions have fallen. Further, the Colonels had a 5 to 3 lead at the end of the sixth, and watched it fade away.

Columbus dropped into a tie with Milwaukee for third place by taking a 12 to 13 defeat from that same team. With the scoring in most of the innings, the loosely played game was anybody's until the last Brewer was out. Milwaukee won on 12 hits, three less than the Red Birds had.

In a ten-inning game Toledo nosed out Kansas City, 3 to 2. Three errors proved disastrous to the Blues, and Fette allowed Toledo 10 hits, twice as many as his own team gathered.

Minneapolis scored two runs in the

When the easiest way is the best way . . .

There are no two ways about it! Certainly the easiest way to get the most for every dollar you spend is to buy products that you know about through the advertisements in your daily paper. You don't have to go out and look for buying opportunities. The advertisements bring them to you. And all you need do is consider the facts, compare values and decide on the soap or the sedan that best fits your judgment and your pocketbook.

Certainly the best way of making your money go farthest is to buy merchandise of proved value. Advertised merchandise. Merchandise that is bought and used by many people. Merchandise that must be superlatively good enough for its maker to keep calling it to the attention of people day after day and year after year.

This is the service—of convenience and profit—that the advertisements offer you every day. It will pay you to read them regularly and take advantage of everything they can do for you.

R. H. PAINE NAMED TO SUCCEED CREGER

Returns to Former Council Seat He
Vacated to Become City
Treasurer

NEW COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

Ritari on Retiring Outlines Improvements He Hopes Will
be Made

Braierd's new city council will meet tonight to organize, appoint officers of the city and conduct such immediate business as requires its attention.

R. H. (Doc) Paine will take his seat again as alderman of the fifth ward by virtue of his appointment to fill the unexpired two year term of Harry W. Creger whose resignation was accepted to take the office of mayor.

Paine was appointed to city treasurer by the council on the death of Richard Ilse less than two years ago. His successor by appointment was Creger. At the April 7 election Paine lost his office of treasurer to George A. Tracy.

Appointment of Paine at the wind-up session of the old council last night came by unanimous vote.

Creger on resigning said that it was the sentiment of the Fifth Ward that either Paine or Walter Buttkus receive the appointment.

By the naming of a former member the old council will continue to have a working majority. Members who have sat on the same council formerly and will continue are: Aldermen V. E. Quansrom, V. F. Anderson, W. J. Lyons, Chris Elvig, Frank B. Johnson, R. H. Paine, W. J. Hall.

New members of the city council taking office tonight (these having been elected April 7) are: Wm. Coyne, J. M. Frederick, George E. (Swede) Erickson.

Ernest Ritari, retiring alderman in the fourth ward expressed his pleasure at having worked with the council. In a letter he outlined a number of improvements he hoped the council would continue to work for. He was given a vote of thanks.

His letter to the council follows: "Since this meeting is the end of my term as alderman from the Fourth Ward and the completion of my sixth year as chairman of the street committee, I believe it proper that I should make a report and such suggestions. I believe helpful, based upon my experience and observations as chairman of the street committee."

"I wish to advise that the usual spring maintenance work has been completed and that the streets are in repair. All the work assigned to this committee has been completed, except the matter of the road at the east city limits, which matter was referred to the committee to work in conjunction with the Board of County Commissioners. I wish to report that arrangements have been made with the County Commissioners and that the work will be done within the next two weeks."

"I believe that it would be well for the City Council to immediately consider the following improvements: "The alley between Front and Laurel streets extending from 5th to 9th streets should be paved. Because of the excessive cost of maintenance and the importance of maintaining in fair repair the so called 'Cemetery Hill,' I would recommend that the city and the Cemetery Association cause this hill to be improved with a hard surface; that the plan for drainage in Southeast Brainerd, as submitted by the City Engineer be carried on to completion, and I would also recommend that the necessary relief sewer for the business district be considered and that a satisfactory method of payment of this improvement be devised."

"These four improvements, I believe are all necessary and the construction of the same during the present season would aid greatly in relieving the improvement situation. "May I take this opportunity to thank each and every member of the council and the employees in the various departments for the cooperation given me during my term of office."

The council voted $25 to Mr. Ritari for gasoline and oil used in his duties on the street committee. "It is with pleasure that I inform you that on my retirement as city attorney I turn over my office to my successor (William J. Swanson) without a single action pending against the city. The city is not involved in any litigation nor is there any litigation pending," D. H. Fullerton said in addressing the council.

"The city's financial status is in commendable shape and there is nothing pending in my office. I am happy in the fact that I am not turning over the office with a lot of grief facing my successor," he said. Mr. Fullerton expressed appreciation at having served the council for 12 years and recalled many pleasant experiences he had had with the body. "I do not recall of any single recommendation that I made the council that you took an unfavorable attitude to. You have a fine working organization and my hope is that such a cooperation will continue," Mr. Fullerton said.

The council tendered him a vote of thanks.

WORK STARTS ON PARADISE BEACH

Located on South Long Lake and is Owned by Elmer Erickson,
Braierd Business Man

Men were at work yesterday blasting and clearing roads into Paradise Beach on South Long Lake. This property, Crow Wing county's latest lake shore development is owned by Elmer Erickson, part owner of the Town Pump.

Paradise Beach is 1 1/2 miles from Brainerd and extends for a mile along the southeast shore of South Long Lake. It is a heavily wooded district with birch predominating and boasts a fine, hard sand beach.

Four cabins have already been built on the new development and others are being built. Mr. Erickson stated that at least two more cabins will be completed before the first of the month.

In all there are 206 lots on the new development, about 70 of which have lake shore frontage. Forty percent of the lots have been sold during the past two months. All lots are sold with material for a model log-effect cabin.

Mr. Erickson stated today that he expected to have a fine lodge building on the development and the roads all completed soon.

People from Brainerd, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Omaha are filling up the new development.

Addresses Students on Navy Advantages

Raymond E. Kane, U. S. navy, addressed the student body at the Motley high school last Thursday.

Mr. Kane, talked on the advantages and disadvantages of a naval career. He said in part that no unit of the fleet's organization is without a doctor and a trained staff, nor is any ship without its "sick bay." Battle-ships have two doctors and an operating room. Hospital ships, fully equipped accompany the fleet. Naval hospitals, three on the Pacific coast, seven on the Atlantic, two inland, and others in outlying possessions, are all rated class A by the American College of Surgeons. Doctors for the navy, he explained, were drawn by competitive examination from medical schools ranked class "A." Navy pay continues during all illness of a sailor unless the ailment is directly due to the man's own misconduct, in such cases the treatment is the same—all free—but pay is stopped, fairly.

At a special assembly call Tuesday the students of the Pillager high school were introduced to Mr. Kane, who gave an interesting talk on the U. S. navy. Mr. Kane, said the closing of the school year released from the class room many young men who, for one reason or another, will not return to school again. Some have completed high school and do not care to continue education through college or university, or others may find it necessary to commence work. For similar reasons younger lads who have not completed the high school curriculum may not return to finish their courses. He urged these boys to consider the advantages of enlisting in the U. S. navy.

PLAN PIPE LINE TO REACH LUM PARK

Water and Light Board Proposes Laying 900 Feet at Estimated
Cost of $1500

Lum Park will be ably protected from fire and city water will be piped there for drinking and sanitary purposes if a plan now considered by the Water and Light Department is successfully completed.

Some time ago the city council appealed to the Department to provide fire protection for Lum Park. It was estimated that an expenditure of $500 would provide it.

At last night's meeting of the council, W. D. McKay, secretary of the Water and Light Board, stated that the board had investigated and found the initial plan not feasible and proposed instead the laying of a six inch water pipe from the corner of 1 street and 14th avenue. The cost of laying this pipe, approximately 900 feet would be in the neighborhood of $1,500, Mr. McKay estimated.

Definite plans for this improvement will be offered to the council at a later date and if approved work will be started early this summer.

RAINS DIMINISH FIRE HAZARDS

Check Blazes But Fail to Extinguish
Them; Rains Also Aid
Farm Lands

Rains checked but failed to extinguish brush fires in the district, the Minnesota Forestry Department office headquarters announced today.

The rain that fell was widespread and covered the entire district proving beneficial both in the prevention of new flareups of fires and to farm lands generally. It provided a "breather" for fire fighters to concentrate on a more effective campaign of attack.

Continuance of the rainfall will place the fire situation well in hand.

R. H. PAINE NAMED TO SUCCEED CREGER

Returns to Former Council Seat He
Vacated to Become City
Treasurer

NEW COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

Ritani on Retiring Outlines Improvements He Hopes Will
be Made

Braierd's new city council will meet tonight to organize, appoint officers of the city and conduct such immediate business as requires its attention.

R. H. (Doc) Paine will take his seat again as alderman of the fifth ward by virtue of his appointment to fill the unexpired two year term of Harry W. Creger whose resignation was accepted to take the office of mayor.

Paine was appointed to city treasurer by the council on the death of Richard Ilse less than two years ago.
His successor by appointment was Creger. At the April 7 election Paine lost his office of treasurer to George
A. Tracy.

Appointment of Paine at the wind-up session of the old council last night came by unanimous vote.

Creger on resigning said that it was the sentiment of the Fifth Ward that either Paine or Walter Buttkie receive the appointment.

By the naming of a former member the old council will continue to have a working majority. Members who have sat on the same council formerly and will continue are: Aldermen
V. E. Quamstrom, V. F. Anderson, W.
J. Lyonsais, Chris Elvig, Frank B.
Johnson, R. H. Paine, W. J. Hall.

New members of the city council taking office tonight (these having been elected April 7) are: Wm. Coyne,
J. M. Frederick, George E. (Swede)
Erickson.

Ernest Ritani, retiring alderman in the fourth ward expressed his pleasure at having worked with the council. In a letter he outlined a number of improvements he hoped the council would continue to work for.
He was given a vote of thanks.

His letter to the council follows:
"Since this meeting is the end of my term as alderman from the Fourth Ward and the completion of my sixth year as chairman of the street committee, I believe it proper that I should make a report and such suggestions, I believe helpful, based upon my experience and observations as chairman of the street committee.

"I wish to advise that the usual spring maintenance work has been completed and that the streets are in repair. All the work assigned to this committee has been completed, except the matter of the road at the east city limits, which matter was referred to the committee to work in conjunction with the Board of County Commissioners. I wish to report that arrangements have been made with the County Commissioners and that the work will be done within the next two weeks.

"I believe that it would be well for the City Council to immediately consider the following improvements:

"The alley between Front and Laurel streets extending from 5th to 9th streets should be paved. Because of the excessive cost of maintenance and the importance of maintaining in fair repair the so called 'Cemetery Hill,' I would recommend that the city and the Cemetery Association cause this hill to be improved with a hard surface; that the plan for drainage in Southeast Brainerd, as submitted by the City Engineer be carried on to completion, and I would also recommend that the necessary relief sewer for the business district be considered and that a satisfactory method of payment of this improvement be devised.

"These four improvements, I believe are all necessary and the construction of the same during the present season would aid greatly in relieving the improvement situation.

"May I take this opportunity to thank each and every member of the council and the employees in the various departments for the cooperation given me during my term of office."

The council voted $25 to Mr. Ritani for gasoline and oil used in his duties on the street committee.

"It is with pleasure that I inform you that on my retirement as city attorney I turn over my office to my successor (William J. Swanson) without a single action pending against the city. The city is not involved in any litigation nor is there any litigation pending." D. H. Fullerton said in addressing the council.

"The city's financial status is in commendable shape and there is nothing pending in my office. I am happy in the fact that I am not turning over the office with a lot of grief facing my successor," he said.

Mr. Fullerton expressed appreciation at having served the council for 12 years and recalled many pleasant experiences he had had with the body.

"I do not recall of any single recommendation that I made the council that you took an unfavorable attitude to. You have a fine working organization and my hope is that such a cooperation will continue," Mr. Fullerton said.

Mr. Fullerton will establish his office for private practice in the First National Bank Building. He has appointed Miss H. J. House as his secretary.

The council tendered him a vote of thanks.

PLAN PIPE LINE TO REACH LUM PARK

Water and Light Board Proposes Lay-
ing 900 Feet at Estimated
Cost of $1500

Lum Park will be ably protected from fire and city water will be piped there for drinking and sanitary purposes if a plan now considered by the Water and Light Department is successfully completed.

Some time ago the city council appealed to the Department to provide fire protection for Lum Park.
It was estimated that an expenditure of $500 would provide it.

At last night's meeting of the council, W. D. McKay, secretary of the Water and Light Board, stated that the board had investigated and found the initial plan not feasible and proposed instead the laying of a six inch water pipe from the corner of I street and 14th avenue. The cost of laying this pipe, approximately 900 feet would be in the neighborhood of $1-500, Mr. McKay estimated.

Definite plans for this improvement will be offered to the council at a later date and if approved work will be started early this summer.

Turn Out Divorces Every Six Minutes at Reno, Nev.

Reno, Nev., May 5.—(U.P.)—The courts of Washoe county continued today to turn out divorces at the rate of one every six minutes under the new statute which requires only six weeks residence.

The procedure was the same in all cases—the oath of intended permanent residence in Nevada, the recitation of cruelty, non-support or desertion, the proof of six weeks' residence in Nevada and then the decree.

Novel's Inspiration

Sir Rider Haggard wrote his famous
"King Solomon's Mines" as the result of a dollar bet. His brother had just finished "Treasure Island," then a new book, and declared that it was the finest thing he had ever read. Rider bet him a dollar he would write a book that would sell as well.

RAINS DIMINISH FIRE HAZARDS

Check Blazes But Fail to Extinguish
Them; Rains Also Aid
Farm Lands

Rains checked but failed to extinguish brush fires in the district, the Minnesota Forestry Department office
headquarters announced today.

The rain that fell was widespread and covered the entire district proving beneficial both in the prevention of new flareups of fires and to farm lands generally. It provided a "breather" for fire fighters to concentrate on a more effective campaign of attack.

Continuance of the rainfall will place the fire situation well in hand.

At the Palace of the Duke

"Then it is true, Father! On the morrow you will go to the palace of the duke at Weissenfels!" It was a slender boy of perhaps seven years who spoke with so much eagerness—a boy by the name of George Frederick Handel, who lived in the town of Halle, in Saxony, towards the end of the Seventeenth century.

The father, old and wrinkled and white of hair, clasped his hands behind his back and, with unsmiling eyes, gazed downward at his son. Yes, it is true," he said. "Why are you so excited?"

"Because I, too, wish to go to Weissenfels. Oh, Father, please, may I accompany you on the journey?"

"Why?" The word came sharply. George shifted his feet uneasily. His gaze strayed about the dark room in which they were standing, then fixed itself on his father's face. "At court," he replied boldly, "there is music—oh, such beautiful music. I love to hear it!"

The father's hands tightened behind his back, and a look of anger hardened his face. He had no use for music, no sympathy for anyone who cared for it—least of all for his young son.

"Hark to me!" he burst forth in an angry voice. "Much pain it gives me to hear you prate ever of music. Music? Bah! A waste of time! A lawyer you shall become, not a wandering, penniless musician! It is my wish for you. I have spoken!"

George's lips quivered. "But may I not go to the court with you?" he insisted. "Surely, there can be no harm."

"No!" The father brought his hands together with a sound that echoed in the silent room. "No!" he repeated. "I will not have it!"

His father, old Herr Handel, set forth early the next day in the post chaise. George bade him good-by; but a few minutes after the carriage had passed through the gate he started after it. The roads were bad, the vehicle slow-moving. He felt sure that he could overtake it. Then he would plead with his father once more—and perhaps his father would yield.

George came up with the carriage at a considerable distance from the town. Fortunately for him, it had become bogged in a soft spot on the road. He saw it as he was emerging from a wood—one wheel well down in the mud, the driver with his shoulder against the spokes, and Herr Handel tugging at the bridle of the horses.

"What!" cried the father in amazement. "What?"

"What?" cried the father in amazement. "What?"

"What?" cried the father in amazement. "What?"

"MURDER AT EAGLE'S NEST"

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

The murder of Baroness von Wisse at Eagle's Nest stirred the town of Kingscliffe. Walter Vance, Assistant Chief-of-Police, is in charge of the investigation, aided by his fiancée, "Bim" Martin, young newspaper reporter. A note, written by the Baroness, is found near the body. Bim recalls seeing the Baroness slip the butler a piece of paper, which he denies. Suspicion is cast on Mary Frost, whose husband, Ted, had flirted with the Baroness. Mary's shawl is found wrapped around the body. Mary claims she was unable to locate the shawl and left with Ted. It develops she returned later for the shawl. Complications arise when it is learned that Laura Allan had borrowed the shawl. Emily Hardy's maid heard the Baroness quarrel with her maid. Bim wonders about the wounds on the head and arm of the Baroness' maid. The jewels of the Baroness have been stolen. Laura says she saw Mary entering the garden wearing her shawl. Bim finds a stone from a man's ring on the Summer house path. Laura denies wearing the shawl. Bim learns from the gardener that Bunny Baird was entertaining a lady in his bungalow.

"She insulted my wife!" Bob went on.

Walter had known Bob Trent as long as he could remember. Back in the World War days the older man had been an object of hero-worship to the boy who saw him march debonairly down Main Street, while bands played and flags lifted on the breeze, and people cheered the little company of soldiers Kingscliffe sent away to France.

Many who marched that day never returned. It, perhaps, would have been better for Bob Trent and for the girl he married just before he sailed, Walter was thinking, if Bob had been among those who now slept the eternal sleep in a far away land.

He was very gentle as he spoke to the sick man; very gentle with the fluttering, weebegone little woman who watched him with wide, scared eyes.

"There's been a bit of a mix-up, old fellow, and we're trying to straighten it out. Nothing that concerns you or Millicent. Sorry to be a bother, but there's no help for it."

Trent's face broke into a drawn smile but his eyes were glassy. "Trying to let me down easy, are you, Wally? Don't, then; I know when the police are around something's broke loose. What is it—robbery, divorce, assault, mayhem? Drive on, Wally; I can stand it."

But moments passed before Walter drove on, casting about as he was for the least startling way of imparting the news. His own face looked rather drawn and his eyes full of pity as he surveyed his old friend.

To The Point

"Someone was hurt last night, Bob; the Baroness it was. We're running down the — the trouble, you see."

"Hurt, Wally?"

"Well—"

"You mean she was killed, don't you? Murdered?"

"Easy, old man. Such things happen."

"Yes," Trent smiled again in a ghastly way but there was no change in the half-mad glitter of his eyes. The others sent out a breath of relief when they realized he was taking it so easily. "Yes, such things happen," he went on. "A disagreeable woman, the Baroness. Impossible. Upstart. She insulted my wife."

Millicent's protest caught on a sob. "Bob! Bob, darling! Why, it was nothing—nothing!" she cried frantically. "You just didn't understand. A woman like her—rich and beautiful—what would she see in me?"

"You, Millicent?" He turned a wondering gaze upon the stricken, loyal little face and a strange sweetness swept his expression.

"He thinks," Millicent explained half proudly, half pleadingly, "that everybody should feel about me just as he does. You understand, don't you?" she begged

And Many Do Just That

A learned commentator notes a change in the attitude of country and city people toward each other. "Country folks no longer regard all city people as stuck-up snobs." Really, it would be quite impossible to retain that false opinion of a democratic city person who will stop his car and climb over a wire fence to steal apples.—Detroit News.

One Sunday morning he allowed George to play a voluntary at the end of the service. The duke was in the chapel that morning. The beautiful sounds that the boy drew from the organ thrilled and amazed him; and after the service he sent for George and his father.

While they stood before him, he said to Herr Handel: "It is a remarkable son you have here! I have heard him play. His playing is cultured. He has abnormal gifts! He must be trained."

The father moistened his lips. "But, your highness," he replied nervously, "it is a lawyer I would have my son become—"

"A lawyer?" repeated the duke severely. "Bah! I tell you the boy has remarkable gifts."

The duke drew a quantity of coins from his pocket and placed them in George's hand. "Your father must provide a competent teacher for you," he said in a tone of command.

George could hardly speak, so great was his joy. He was to have a teacher! He was to follow his beloved music!
